U. S. Supreme Court Schedules Ruling on Jimcrow Schools

High Court May Hear School Cases in Oct.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A potentially historic decision on segregation of Negro and white children in the nation's public schools may be made after the U. S. Supreme Court meets again in October.

Parents of Negro school pupils filed appeals to the Supreme Court asserting constitutional rights of their children were violated by segregation in the schools of Clarendon County, S. C., and Topeka, Kans.

The appeals were from lower federal courts' rulings on the issue of segregation in public schools. In the South Carolina case, a special three-judge federal court ruled that Clarendon County school officials were complying with its order to equalize facilities.

It ruled that "no good would be accomplished for anyone" by ordering an immediate end to segregation.

In the Topeka case another special three-judge federal court said it had found no material difference in the facilities of the separate Negro and white grade schools of the city.

College Jimcrow Banned
Segregation as then practiced at the Texas and Oklahoma state universities was banned by the U. S. Supreme Court in two decisions announced in June 1950.

Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson declared in the university cases that the U. S. Constitution's 14th Amendment "precludes differences in treatment by the state based upon race."

In both cases the present appeals have been constructed as being directed basically against segregation in schools. Therefore the high court's ruling could affect public school segregation wherever it is practiced.

Georgia, Virginia and Alabama have taken steps that could lead to the end of public schools if segregation is outlawed.
Gov. James Z. Byrnes of South Carolina, a former member of the U. S. Supreme Court, has said that if his state loses the right to operate jimcrow schools it will abandon its public school system.

Drugstore Safe Robber Gets $105 On Indiana Ave.

The criminal who executed a well planned burglary of Hook's Drug Store at Indiana avenue and West street last Sunday night must have been sorely disappointed at the "measly reward" he got for his efficient efforts.

L. James Perry, 635 Eugene, the store manager, reported to police after arriving at the store Monday morning that a small safe had been battered open and $105 in coins used to make change, had been taken.

Patrolmen Roger Harrison and Jas. Gibbs, sent there in response to Mr. Perry's call to headquarters, discovered a neat hole about 18 inches square had been cut in a door leading down into the basement.

Broke Unwired Window
The officers noticed that the burglar had managed to secrete himself in the basement before closing time, 10 p. m., and sometime before 2:40 a. m. saved the door, pried the safe from the back wall in the prescription laboratory, scooped up the $105 and escaped by smashing a corner of the large plate glass on West street, which was the only section of wall glass not wired by a burglar alarm.

"Someone certainly had cased this place and knew what he was doing," the officers commented.
The sound of the breaking glass attracted the attention of Joseph Sheldon, 30, night attendant of the Peoples Funeral Home across the street.

Sheldon said he saw a man carrying a bag jump through the window and run across the street, and head west through the alley which borders the funeral home.

The burglar seems to have known everything about Hook's except the fact that the Saturday and Sunday store receipts, running into several thousands of dollars, were not kept in the safe or any handy place in the store.

Later Monday police questioned two suspects picked up in an attempted burglary of Cohen's Drug store at 9th and Illinois.

Grace Wilson Evans, Ind. Clubwoman Dies

TERRE HAUTE (Special)—Mrs. Grace Wilson Evans, age 59, civic and political leader widely known for her work in the cause of social, economic and political rights for her people. She held various offices in the state and nation as an organizer and leader in the Federation of Colored Women's Clubs.

She was a former chairman of the executive board of the Indiana Federation of Colored Women's Clubs, a life trustee of the Indiana Federation of Colored Women's Clubs, a founder of the Phyllis Wheatley Home and Colored Day Nursery and past president of the local NAACP.

She was one of the founders of the Federation Club Home in Indianapolis and was a prime mover in the movement which culminated in the naming of Negro persons to the Indiana state board of education.

Survivors include her husband, Frederick H. Evans, Sr., three sons, Wilfred C. Carter, Cleveland; Dr. Frederick H. Evans, Jr., U.S. Army Medical Corps Captain, and James W. Evans, Terre Haute; five daughters, Mrs. Winifred Howell, Dayton, Ohio; Mrs. Maude Cook, Cleveland; Mrs. Harriett E. Gillespie, Los Angeles; Miss Mabel E. Evans, Tuskegee, Ala.; and Miss Josephine Alcinda Evans, Terre Haute; a sister, Mrs. Maude Fullen, Danville, Va.; and three brothers, Dr. H. I. Wilson, Cincinnati; Enoch Wilson and Wesley Wilson, Washington, D.C.

Vengeful Woman Puts Chaney Slayer On Spot

A woman's desire for revenge was mingled with the official satisfaction of justice as Judge Saul I. Rabb in Criminal Court 2 sentenced Melvin Townsend, 32, to 21 years in prison after he pleaded guilty to manslaughter Monday morning.

Townsend was arrested by the FBI in Cincinnati last December—almost a year and a half after police began searching for him for the Indiana avenue knife-slaying of William Offutt (Chaney) on June 24, 1950.

Indicted on a first degree murder charge, he pleaded not guilty on arraignment but quickly changed his mind after consultation with his attorney, a public defender, as selection of the jury was about to get under way.

Townsend sat glumly through the brief proceedings in which Judge Rabb questioned witnesses for a clear picture of how and why Offutt (Chaney) had been killed. The judge conducted the trial so as to insure the inclusion of every legal requirement in the record.

Man Shoots Wife Fatally At South Bend

SOUTH BEND (Special)—Grady R. Harvell, age 31, surrendered to local police last Sunday evening following the fatal shooting of his estranged wife, Mrs. Nannie Mae Harvell, age 37, near the home of her brother, Tolbert Chism.

Police report that Mrs. Harvell was struck by four bullets; one went through her back and pierced the heart, another through the right arm and into the chest, one into the right leg and one into the right hand.

Harvell turned in to the police a pearl-handled automatic at the time he surrendered. He told the police, "I just shot my wife," and while weeping told them his wife had left him to live with her brother.

Mrs. Harvell's brother told the police that Harvell entered the house before the shooting with a drawn automatic, commanding his wife to leave with him. The brother says he called the police after they left the house. The slaying occurred around 10:30 p.m. Police in the car answering the call to the house said they found the woman, dead, in the middle of a dark street about a block from the Chism home.

Harvell, who lived in a suburban area, is reported as having visited the Chism home on Monday and Tuesday preceding the shooting of his wife. Other persons living in the house say he had threatened to kill his wife, but she was not home on either occasion.

Harvell is being held without bond and will be charged with first-degree murder. The prosecutor's office reported that a special grand jury may be called to consider his case.

449 Butler U. Candidates Awarded Degrees

By RONALD G. DAVIS
Ten Negro graduates were among the 449 Butler University students, receiving degree at commencement exercises last week.

Master of Science degrees were awarded to Sylvia Allensworth, Betty Maxine Lyerson and Marie P. McKeller, all of the city.

Seven others completing their courses of study were Bertie Mae Donald Layne, Trinidad; Mary Frances Coleman, Noblesville; and Herbert C. Miller, Maybelle Stewart Dupree, Chester A. Grissom Jr., John Wesley Clark and Oliver J. Bell, Jr., all of Indianapolis.

Mr. Miller, 3148 E. Iowa st., was the first Negro student elected to the Phi Kappa Phi honor society at Butler. He graduated "cum laude" from the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

W. P. Dabney, Editor Of Renown Dies in Ohio

CINCINNATI (ANP)—The "Grand Old Man" of Negro journalism, Wendell Phillips Dabney was buried here on Monday following funeral rites at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church. He died in a local hospital Tuesday, June 3.

Dabney succumbed to complications produced by an ulcer. He had been in a coma for about a month, but had improved to such an extent that doctors at the hospital had informed his relatives three days before his death that he would be able to leave the hospital and return home on Thursday, June 5. However, the aged Dabney suffered a relapse and died just three hours after the doctors had informed his relatives that he would be allowed to leave the hospital.

Born in Richmond, Va., in the closing year of the Civil War, Dabney became a writer, musician, politician, composer, historian and editor for nearly 40 years of Cincinnati's one-man weekly news.

Craig Wins GOP Gubernatorial Nomination

The Republican Party set itself for the momentous fall Presidential election by electing a slate of candidates for major Indiana state offices at a convention held in the Coliseum Saturday.

George N. Craig, former national commander of the American Legion and World War II veteran, emerged winner of the gubernatorial contest after a grueling tug-of-war with formidable opposition presented principally by Leland Smith, Indiana secretary of state.

Craig was elected on the third ballot after a movement to stop him suddenly blew up.

The red-hot GOP convention, which was matched by the red-hot temperature of the day, generated considerable extra heat by instructing its delegates to the national convention in July to vote for Sen. Robert A. Taft in the Presidential balloting.

Two Like Ike
Two of the group, including a prominent daily newspaper publisher, declined the convention's "invitation," declaring they would vote as they pleased, meaning, it was understood, for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Setback to Plans
The refusal of the federal court to hear the contention by Perry that terms of the wills of Madam Walker and her daughter, Madam A'Lelia Walker Kennedy, were not being carried out, represented a major setback to Perry's plans to capture control and ownership of the celebrated hair and cosmetic preparations manufacturing concern.

It is roughly estimated that he and his children have suffered a personal financial loss of more than $25,000 in pressing their claims.

Both Perry and his daughter had held official positions in management of the company for a number of years until they resigned just prior to the filing of the suit, for which they engaged several of Indianapolis' leading law firms.

Perry has three courses of action open: to file an appeal Continued on Page 7

Alleged Ax Slayer in Court, Held For Murder
Earl Beason, 38, 748 Colton street and his wife, Bertha Beason, 34, were given separate status in the murder charge hearing before Judge Phillip L. Bayt, Friday afternoon last week.

Beason was bound over to the grand jury on a first degree murder charge in connection with the brutal axe slaying of former Army sergeant John Edward McKay in the Colton street home on Memorial Day.

Walker Estate Control Fight Lost by Perry

A serious blow was given to the hopes of Marion R. Perry, his daughter and adopted son, of gaining complete control and ownership of the million-dollar Walker Manufacturing Company, by the U. S. District Court of Southern Indiana last week.

Judge William E. Steckler, who heard oral testimony and arguments two days last February, announced a ruling June 6 that his federal court lacked jurisdiction to hear the plaintiffs' claims that they were the rightful heirs of the late Madam C. J. Walker, fabulous hair and cosmetic preparations pioneer.

Specifically, the court decided that Attorney Perry, his daughter, Mrs. Herman Bundy, Chicago, and his adopted son, Walker Gordon Jackson, were in fact residents of Indiana (Indianapolis) at the time of filing their suit—July 21, 1950—and not, as they contended, residents of other states.

The defendants—officials of the Walker company—had opposed hearing of the suit in federal court on a number of legal technical grounds—including denial of the diversity of citizenship as alleged by the plaintiffs.

Gave Residence in Ark.
Mr. Perry gave his legal residence as Little Rock, Ark., where he had lived for years and operated several businesses at the time of his marriage to the late Mae Walker Jackson, granddaughter of the original Madam Walker.

His daughter, Mrs. Bundy, who used her maiden name, Miss A'Lelia Walker Perry, when the suit was filed, gave her residence as Chicago. The son, Walker Gordon Jackson, declared his legal home to be in Arkansas.

Perry, now residing in East Chicago, consulted his battery of prominent lawyers Tuesday but gave no indication as to whether he will appeal Judge Steckler's findings.

The court's decision climaxed the legal battle which began Aug. 8, 1948, when Perry filed the opening salvo in a suit filed in the Marion County Probate Court seeking to oust Robert Lee Brockenburr, general manager of the Walker company, as executor of the estate of A'Lelia Walker Kennedy, daughter of Madam Walker.

This suit was dropped and the present one filed in federal court almost two years ago.

Local NAACP Appeals to Members In Battle for 'Very Existence'

The Indianapolis branch of the NAACP, "fighting for its very existence" according to some active workers, this week appealed to its entire membership to put the recruiting drive over the top.

Dr. J. A. G. Jordan, branch president, wrote to every member in the city urging him or her to take an active part in renewing the organization's rolls.

Dr. Jordan invited all to attend a "Rally for Membership Meeting" to be held at the Phyllis Wheatley

YWCA on Friday, June 13, at 8 p.m.

Dr. M. L. Breeding, pastor of Phillips Temple CME Church, and Mrs. Edna Johnson, chairman of the membership drive, were to speak on "Gaining Our Civil Rights Through NAACP" at the gathering. Free refreshments were promised.

Regular business of the NAACP, including the election of delegates to the national convention, also was on the agenda. But leaders said that routine business would be kept to a minimum. "The enrolling of members so the organization can continue its work comes before everything else now," it was declared.

Faces Tough Battle
It is no secret among veteran workers that the local branch faces the toughest battle of its history at the present time. There is no paid executive secretary to direct the campaign, as there has been in some past years, and no worker has been sent from the national office. Also, it appears that some "fair weather friends" have dropped away since the political climate has changed and the crusade against discrimination has met tougher sledding. The NAACP leaders believe, however, that the great mass of Negroes still ardently desire first-class citizenship, and that a number of whites are still fair-minded Continued on Page 7

AME ZION BISHOPS ENDORSE TRUMAN'S CIVIL RIGHTS PLAN

BROOKLYN — Bishop W. J. Walls, Senior Bishop, AME Zion Church, said at the close of the 34th quadrennial session of the general conference that the Board of Bishops unanimously endorsed President Truman's Civil Rights Program.

The prelate spoke for the board and was forceful in his praise. "The interest that President Truman has shown in the Negroes and all minorities is full evidence that he is worthy of all the praise and support that can be given him. He is determined that this nation, under God, shall forever remain indivisible," he said.

The church is known to have been one of the militant forces in America and Bishop Walls' declaration bears out this tradition. It was founded on liberty and the courage to bolt prejudices and it has been its policy to speak out against injustices since its founding.

This is the first statement made by the Board of Bishops since the close of the General Conference. It is expected to continue its crusade for right and justice in the matters of state just as it is fighting to bring men to God.

Attacks High School Notes Of The Week

Charles Randolph James, a seventeen year old June graduating senior, is the first student photographer that Crispus Attucks has known.

He has taken most of the pictures which have appeared in the 1952 Silver Anniversary Yearbook. Photography never entered Charles' mind until he became a Boy Scout. His interest in photography became even greater when he joined the Shutterbug Club at Attucks under the leadership of Miss Doris Brown and Mrs. Ethel Kuykendall.

While a member of this camera club, Charles began taking pictures with his Brownie Reflex. When the publications division purchased a Speed Graphic Camera last fall, Charles was among the first to seek instruction in operating it.

He has spent many hours in the photographic darkroom at the school's photographic darkroom, which is still in rudimentary state. The amateur photographer has a darkroom of his own at home. Charles has not only taken school pictures, but has taken pictures in California, Pennsylvania, Texas, and Arizona.

Some of the awards that Charles has received are Photography Award, Leadership, Citizenship, Honor Roll, Upper Dedic.

"If the deal is real don't give in, give out." Charles has two brothers who are interested in pharmacy, one who is graduating from pharmacy school, and the other who owns a drugstore at 21st and Boulevard where Charles is employed. His sister also graduated from Attucks with high honors and is now a student at University of Illinois.

Future plans for Charles include attending a school of pharmacy or to become a doctor.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Emory A. James.

Noted Doctor Of Miss. Passes At Vicksburg

VICKSBURG, Miss. (AP)—Dr. F. E. Pinson, prominent physician of Vicksburg for some 36 years, died last week of injuries he received in a three-way automobile collision here. He died in a hospital few hours after the accident.

The driver of the truck, which was in collision with Dr. Pinson's car, was booked on manslaughter charges. When the cars collided, Dr. Pinson was thrown out of his car. The car then swerved into another automobile.

Dr. Pinson was one of Vicksburg's outstanding physicians. He was the father of Dr. F. E. Pinson, Jr., of Jackson, Miss.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Catherine Pinson, and son, Dr. Pinson is survived by another son, a dental student at Howard university, T. J. Pinson; a daughter, Miss Catherine Pinson; two brothers, Roy, Detroit and Chester, Lovelock, Ill.; three sisters, Mrs. Ophelia Walls, East St. Louis and Mrs. Hattie Johnson, Chicago, and Miss Annie Pinson, Holly Springs, Miss.

2 Convicted of Rape Pay Death Penalty in South

RALEIGH, N.C. (ANP) — Two young Negroes last week paid the supreme price for being convicted on charges of raping two different white women in the South.

In Raleigh, N.C., a slender laborer from Lexington, N.C., convicted of the murder-rape of a 65-year-old white widow, went to his death in the state gas chamber protesting his innocence.

Only nine minutes after he was led to the chamber, John Andrew Roman, 30, described by some as a quiet, hard-working man and good provider for his wife and children, was dead. He died in the gas chamber after being convicted for killing Mrs. Beulah Miller Hinshaw at Lexington.

At Tucker Prison Farm, Ark., 23-year-old Herman Maxwell, who won three stays of execution, finally was killed in the electric chair for the rape of an expectant white mother. His final statement to prison officials and 28 other witnesses was a plea for prayer.

CAHS Grads Impressive As Speakers

Drive, enthusiasm, and an appreciation of the value of time were listed as desirable qualities to cultivate in a talk on "Personal Salesmanship" by Miss Johnnie Marie Walton, president of the January, 1952 graduating class of Crispus Attucks High School during the school's commencement exercises last week.

The thousands of fellow graduates, parents, students, and friends who crowded Cadle Tabernacle for the school's 25th annual commencement program heard Miss Walton answer her own question, "What are my assets and liabilities?" by saying, "Here I am, a sort of diamond in the rough, ready for cutting and polishing. I can make a mess of the job, or I can create someone beautiful. It's up to me."

Defining "drive" as "that inner urge that starts itself and goes into action," she called it a preventive for laziness and failure, declaring "It follows through on any given assignment until it is successfully completed."

"Enthusiasm," she said, "generates the drive to get results. We shall have to stick to the job and apply the same degree of spunk and courage that is necessary to be successful in any worthwhile project in life."

Discerning a design in everything, whether man-made or God-made, Alfred Johnson, member of the June class, in his talk on "Patterns," pointed out that "no one ever gets far without a pattern! And the farther he hopes to go, the more carefully he should weigh every quality which might aid or hinder him."

Law School Graduate Makes U. of N. C. History

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (ANP) — Only one of five Negro law students at the University of North Carolina was graduated at commencement exercises.

A second is expected to finish during the summer session. The lone graduate, who made history by being the first colored person to successfully complete work for a degree at the historic southern institution, is Harvey Elliott Beech, a native of Kinston, N.C.

J. Kenneth Lee, Greensboro, N.C., reportedly said that he had completed academic requirements for a law degree but needs five weeks of residence in order to be graduated.

The university has notified the other three that they have failed to meet the institution's standard of work. They may seek permission to continue study in the law school; however, their chances of getting a degree from the university are remote.

Students who failed to maintain the standard of work necessary for a degree are:

James L. Lassiter and William A. Marsh Jr., Durham, and James R. Walker Jr., Statesville.

Failures Not Surprising Marsh already has indicated that he intends to ask permission to continue study in the law school. Another of the failing students, Lassiter, was unable to make up his mind on whether to continue trying or not. The third student, Walker, could not be reached for comment.

The realization that three of the students at the school failed to pass probably will not come as a surprise to many persons throughout the nation.

It has been common knowledge that they were having difficulty with their courses. Many reasons were given for this. Among them were accusations that the law school purposely was trying to fail them.

However, one of the students spiked this as being untrue. Another source suggested that the probable reason for their poor showing was because of inferior secondary training received in many colored high schools.

Whatever the reason for the students failing, it is a fact that their appearance on the Chapel Hill campus did create several incidents. How much effect this had on the ability of the students to study is debatable.

The federal court rulings requiring the university to accept the Negroes as students was rated the top news story in North Carolina for 1951 by working members of the press.

Beech, a 28-year-old graduate of Morehouse College, was happy over being graduated. He added, however, he already was worried over passing the bar examination in August.

New York Woman Is a Yale Medical School Graduate

NEW YORK (ANP) — Doris L. Wethers, 24, was graduated from the Yale Medical School last week. Daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Wethers of New York City, the young woman will do her internship at Galling hospital in Washington, Dr. Wethers was invited to attend Yale as a result of her brilliant record in high school and college in New York. As an honor student at George Washington high, she went on to Queens College and maintained one of the highest four year records any student achieved at that school.

At Yale, she was a dormitory student, but all of her associates were white students from all parts of the country. She was the only Negro in a class of 77.

Her work at Yale won a scholarship from the Jessie Smith Noyes Foundation. Dr. Wethers plans to specialize in pediatrics once she completes her internship at Galling.

For good printing "in a hurry," phone The Indianapolis Recorder Printing Co., at LI. 1545. You will be pleased and proud of the work.

Women's Improvement Club Marks 50th Anniversary

Social Scene . . .

By RICHARD C. HENDERSON

Jordan Hall of the Phyllis Wheatley YWCA looked unusually pretty last Friday night, when the Women's Improvement club celebrated its fiftieth anniversary at a buffet dinner and fashion revue.

The stage at one end was profusely decorated with huge palms and numerous baskets of vari-colored garden flowers, while the individual tables, decorated in a color scheme of pink and turquoise, complemented the service table, where Mrs. E. H. Cox and her committee were kept very busy for a very, very long time serving the many, many guests.

And the women were not to be outdone by the decorations. I don't think I've ever seen any of them looking quite as glamorous or just plain pretty as they did then.

Mrs. Stella Hatch, vice-president, greeted the guests in the absence of the president, Mrs. Myrtle Hummons, and presented the general chairman of the fashion show, Mrs. Georgia Martin.

In her prefatory talk Mrs. Hatch pointed up highlights of the club's history, during which the members had made history for their unusual interest in treating people in the last stages of tuberculosis. Unfortunately, space doesn't permit me to go into any detail about that, but maybe the club will send in a feature article some time soon, as its record is certainly worth knowing.

The program featured a panel on fashions, with Mesdames Emmagee Washington, Hattie Gardner, Theresa Neisler, Sarah Zeigler, and Helen Brawley and the Misses Annetta Clayton and Edwina Bell, named not so long ago in The Recorder as among the city's best-dressed women, as panelists.

In addition to the regular fashion show, the program also featured a showing of the bridal party of Mrs. Ruth Taylor Crowe, which Mrs. Mar in says was one of the most beautiful she had ever seen.

Another very beautiful affair, given recently was the party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. King, when their daughter, Miss Rose Ella King, entertained honoring the "Buckingham Party" hostesses who had feted her at an elaborate party at Flanner House some time back on her return from Europe.

Various games were played, with prizes being won by Mesdames O. A. Johnson, Lionel F. Artis, and Henry A. Fleming. A guest prize was given to Mrs. Samuel Stephens, who was house guest of her uncle and aunt, the Kings.

The family, by the way, at their writing are in Cleveland visiting their son, Dr. Joseph P. King.

On Saturday past a large group of people got a preview of the auditorium of the new FAC building when the educational committee, headed by Mrs. Ann Kennerly sponsored its annual breakfast.

From all indications, the new room is going to be a real beauty.

Not being able to get the name of all the winners, I'd better not attempt to list them, except to say that this time I wasn't completely out of the running, taking home a nice brilliant red casserole.

I had hoped to give you all the sordid details of the cocktail party given for Bill Shirley, Eileen Christy, Ray Middleton, and Muriel Lawrence, stars of "I Dream of Jeanie," at the Lincoln Hotel last week, but that lack of space doesn't let me. It was fun, though.

The Alpha Wives, meeting in the home of Mrs. John Moore, completed plans for a rummage sale and for service as hostesses at the Service Men's Center. Reviewed as highlights of the year's program were a demonstration of ceramics by Mrs. Joel McCree at the home of Mrs. James Cummings, a buffet supper and party for husbands, members of Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity, at the home of Mrs. Roy Clinchborne, and a talk "The Romance of the Development of the Bible" by Rev. C. M. Marsh at the home of Mrs. Alfred Grayson.

At next Tuesday's meeting, to be held in the home of Mrs. LaVerne E. Newsome, plans will be discussed for a "guest day" to be held October 18 in the home of Mrs. Ralph Hanley, when Ayres will give a demonstration of ladies' accessories.

Mrs. Clifton Scott is president of the club, and Mrs. Newsome is reporter.

From the Fox Lake Property Owners Association comes news of its first meeting, held May 31 at the resort club house and hotel, with the president, Rev. Plummer Jacobs, in charge.

In an interesting presentation of the ways and means committee it was agreed that the association would dispense with efforts involving the sale of votes and tickets to the public and friends and finance the group through the assumption of personal obligations and the paying of dues by each member.

Buses and private groups will be requested to pay a fee upon visiting and using the resort. Persons or groups contemplating such visits should contact the president here or Mrs. Gladys Roscoe, 633 Coplin street, Detroit, for detailed information.

A large group of members and visitors spent the Memorial Day week-end there, and the reporter notes that several new neighbors and friends have joined the Fox Lake "family" this season.

From Bob Long and Lucy Williams has come a complimentary copy of an amazing little magazine "Fun Dial—Where, When, and How in Indianapolis," which reminds one of a miniature "New Yorker." Entertainingly edited, the magazine lists all sorts of affairs which are coming up in our fair city, reviews a few of them, and points up various interesting events.

Knowing Bob as I do, I feel safe in saying that the magazine will be an unusual one, in that it promises to cover the city without regard to race, creed, or color. Persons interested in seeing the magazine should contact the Fun Dial Publishing Company, 18 West Michigan street, LI. 3416.

Along with the magazine came an invitation to a jam session with Duke Ellington and some of his musicians, along with a few local musicians at the FAC Home last Monday morning from midnight to 5—one I was not able to keep, understand the affair was "i. here."

Just a reminder of the Delphinium Garden club's annual flower and garden show, planned for Sunday afternoon from 4 to 7 in the home of the president, Mrs. Lenore N. Rankin, 528 Udell street as all of you know, the club always presents very beautiful affairs, so Sunday's ought not to be missed.

Another affair you should look in on is the open house at the McArthur Conservatory of Music Sunday afternoon from 4 to 7. Miss Ruth McArthur is quietly doing a very wonderful piece of work at her school, and certainly more people should look in and see what is offered there before cutting down with any teacher.

And now they tell me space has run out. Sorry if anything is omitted, but I'll do my best next week.

NIFTY GIRLS SPONSOR TEA

Hill Community Center was scene of the annual spring tea of the Nifty Girls club on June 1 celebrating the club's eighth anniversary. Mrs. Beatrice Holifield, chairman of the affair, and her co-workers were responsible for the decorative motif carried out in the napkins, favors, and the centerpiece in the club's colors, blue and gold.

The table was spread with beautiful cloth of heavy lace and centered with a huge plateau of yellow chrysanthemums, gladioluses, and blue daisies. At each side of the centerpiece silver cardholders held long yellow tapers. At one end of the table was a silver tea service, while at the other huge cut-glass punch bowl was surrounded with a variety of nuts, mints, and cookies.

On a table near the door stood a rustic wishing well where the guests deposited their donations and registered.

Mrs. Mahala Beckwith, local attorney, was guest speaker. She was introduced by Mrs. Elsa Jackson. Guests were also favored with music by Mrs. Margaret Turner.

Members are Mesdames Anna M. Glover, president; Clarice Holifield, vice-president; Lula Sanford, recording secretary; Gladys Cook, assistant secretary; Mae Alexander, financial secretary; Louise Tinnin, treasurer; Mary Clay, critic; and Reba Wilson and Beatrice Holifield.

SWEETEN STOMACH TO SWEETEN CHILD

When constipation occasionally upsets little stomachs, children often act up, or sick because they feel miserable, can't eat or sleep right. That's why we mothers give Syrup of Black-Draught whenever youngsters suffer digestive upset from constipation. Its wonderful laxative action can help sweeten sour stomach, too! Then how dispositions improve! Laxative-Stomach Sweetener Works Overnight! Syrup of Black-Draught tastes honey-sweet, so children take it eagerly. Made of nature's pure vegetable herbs—acts thoroughly, but gently. Given at bedtime, brings comforting relief in morning—thus helps sweeten sour stomach, too. Youngsters virtually sleep away their constipation worries! Next day feel good, laugh and play! No wonder 17,000,000 bottles sold. Get Syrup of Black-Draught from drugists. Works wonders for a child's good nature!

ADULTS For constipation try regular Black-Draught, laxative stomach sweetener, famous since 1840. Familiar Powder (crushed) or convenient new Tablet form.

An advertising column of shopping hints

I CAN'T STOP SINGING the praises of Black and White Bleaching Cream for lighter, smoother, softer skin. This famous cream is now 3 times stronger than before. Its "Special Ingredients" work directly on the color in your skin—and the direct bleaching action goes right into the layer in your skin where skin color is regulated. Yes, Black and White Bleaching Cream's amazing action—a result of regular dressing table use as directed—will help you have shades lighter, smoother, softer skin beginning in just 7 days. Modern science knows no faster method of lightening skin. For thrilling results, take my advice and try a jar of Black and White triple strength Bleaching Cream today!

HOW MANY TIMES have you "sweated" on other "whitening" meals by serving a super dessert? I've done it often. And my favorite dessert trick is to take pie, cake, pudding or fruit and smother it with generous helpings of whipped topping. Expensive? Not a bit! Because long ago I learned to make whipped topping with Carnation Evaporated Milk. Not ordinary evaporated milk, mind you. But Carnation... the milk that whips. Yes, unlike other kinds of milk, Carnation whips easily. And here's how:

Chill one cup undiluted Carnation in refrigerator tray until crystals form (about 25-30 mins.). Pour into bowl; whip until foamy (about 1 min.). Add 2 tbsps. lemon juice. Whip until very stiff (about 2 mins.). Fold in sugar if desired. Makes 3 cups whipped topping.

CONSERVATORY STUDENTS HEARD: A large group of students in Department I participated in the ninth annual children's recital of the McArthur Conservatory of Music in Jordan Hall of the Phyllis Wheatley YWCA last Sunday. Among them were Janet Cheatham, Frank Hansbrough, Larry Ridley, Carolyn Brewer, Patty Jean Poinexter, Johnnie Mae Woodson, Lilly Butler, Anna Hewitt, Eric Pullen, Rose Cheatham, Yvonne Mann, Theresa Davis, Vivian Mann, George Faulk, Yvonne Laswell, Loretta Spearman, Herschel Mann, Thomas Mabry, Marguerite McDonald, Ralph Cooper, Betty Couch, Gerald Burris, Janet Mann, and Jeanetta Diggs. Hostesses were Mesdames Herschel Mann, master of ceremonies, Sarah Davis, Emily Poinexter, Marvin Brewer, Rachel Mabry, Thomas Diggs, Ruth Richardson, and Merrill Laswell. Another big event planned by the school is an open house to be held Sunday evening from 5 to 7 marking the opening of summer school. A continuous musical program will be offered. Summer school will open Monday with classes in dancing, guitar, music appreciation, theory, and children's chorus. Also open now is Department III for adults, with special care and attention given to the adult beginner. Private lessons are being offered in all courses at day or in the evening.

Women's Federated Club News

By CLARA PHILLIPS
The Woman's Council will meet Monday with Mrs. Essie G. Ray, 1031 West 27th street. Mrs. Gertrude Pruett is secretary.

The Progressive Needlecraft club will meet with Mrs. Sea Ferguson, 2920 North Capitol avenue, Friday. Mrs. Haldee Wilson, president of the club, was called to Georgia by the serious illness of her mother. Mrs. E. Merriweather is reporter for the club.

The Lend-A-Hand club will meet Monday evening with Mrs. Minnie Ward, 1122 West 27th street. All reports are to be in for the year, and plans will be made for the annual tea, to be held June 29 on the lawn of the home of Mrs. Hester Young, 857 West 27th street.

The Malleable Glee club will meet on Saturday, June 21, in the state club home, 2034 North Capitol avenue. Mrs. Lula Hodge is president.

The Elizabeth Carter Council will hold its pitch-in dinner with all clubs next Tuesday in the club home. Mrs. Maud Robinson, president, will be in charge.

MARRIAGE PLANNED
Mr. and Mrs. Prince Humphrey announce the forthcoming marriage of their niece, Bertha Carter, to Roger Williams, both of this city. The wedding will take place on Sunday afternoon, June 22, in Puritan Baptist Church, with Rev. Samuel Swancey officiating.

IN NAACP PLAY: Carolyn Francis plays the part of Mrs. Ada S. Fisher in her fight to enter the University of Oklahoma in the production "Toll the Liberty Bell," to be presented by the local NAACP on Friday night, June 20, in the auditorium of Crispus Attucks High School.

In this case, I think the stage of advancement of many of the dancers gives adequate reason for departure from the usual. There is no reason not to expect the more advanced girls to become very good dancers, as most of them are definitely talented and are surely being well trained.

In fact, I see no reason why Mrs. Douglass doesn't work up a regular ballet scene for next year's recital. With emphasis on arm control and elevation the students would be as good as any found anywhere, and the idea of doing a regular ballet, even a simple one like "Les Sylphides," might serve as an inspiration to the girls.

The problem of male dancers raises its head. In the interest of a good show, perhaps it would even pay to import some boys here from Chicago or Cleveland. How about that, Mrs. Douglass?

NAACP PLAY CAST: Rehearsals are going full speed ahead for the local NAACP chapter's presentation of "Toll the Liberty Bell," to be presented in the Attucks Auditorium on Friday night, June 20, at 8:30 under the general chairmanship of Mrs. Mahala Beckwith.

Mrs. Mary P. McGuire is chairman of publicity, assisted by Mrs. Edna Johnson, co-chairman. On the ticket committee are Miss Dorothy Hayes and Mrs. Mary E. Williams, while the committee on arrangements includes Willard B. Ransom, Ernest Dix, Frank R. Beckwith, Fr. Oscar E. Holder, and Mesdames D. W. D. Hector, George Keno, Cary D. Jacobs, Eliza Byrd, Mary Mosby, Anna Thurston, Clarence Nelson, and Henry J. Richardson.

Music will be given by the Metropolitan Junior Chorus.

SHRINERS PLAN "FOUR-HEADER"

A combination talent and beauty pageant, popularity contest, and fashion review will be presented by the local Shriners in a night of fun on Friday, June 20, at 8 p. m. in the Walker Casino.

The latest in fashions for tots, teens, debutantes, and parents for various occasions will be shown. Listed as contestants in the popularity contest are the Misses Betty Bateman, Beatrice Byers, Norma Cravens, Veola Nance, Delores White, Eva Matthews, Earline Ann Williams, and Ruth Winters.

The winner of the talent and beauty pageant will be given an all expenses paid trip to Gala Day on July 4 at Fort Wayne and will also vie with other contestants at the national convention here August 17-22.

Winners will also be given scholarships, and the net proceeds will be given to tuberculosis and cancer funds. Noble Cheatham and Mrs. Priscilla Dean Lewis are directors of the affair, and Barbara Washington is secretary. Narration will be given by Mrs. Gladys Butler.

Listed as committee chairmen and co-chairmen are Mesdames Willa Owsley and Gladys Butler, tickets and votes; Katrina Middlebrooks and Jamesella Boyd, prizes; Carlesta McCormick and Helen Ridley, decorations; Edna Tellefe and Clara Mason, mailing; Leroy Cheatham and Katrina Middlebrooks, advertisements; Priscilla Dean Lewis and Opal Hill, contestants; and Elsie Garrett and Wilma Bell, fashion review.

VISITS BROTHER

Arthur Highbaugh, former resident of this city now living in Washington, D. C., is visiting his brother, Wheeler Highbaugh, 904 Pershing avenue. His daughter, Mrs. Odessa Robinson, is recovering from a critical illness.

TEACHERS HONOR PRINCIPAL: Thursday of last week was a gala day for the faculty members of School No. 4, when they honored their principal, Matthias Nalcox, with a special appreciation program in Flanner House upon his retirement. Participating in the affair were, first row, left to right, Miss Zeola Bledsoe, Mrs. Frances Schexsnyder, Mrs. Frances White, assistant principal, Mr. Nalcox, Mrs. Hibernia Bailey, Mrs. Bettie Dowdell, and M. S. Wuanita Morris. Second row, Charles Thomas, Mesdames Lillian Pope, Shirley Overton, Mary Battles, Frances Valentine, Gladys Doyle, and Albertine Hall and Milton Baltimore; third row, Mrs. Mary Brawley, Miss Leslye Handerson, Mrs. Jeanetta Greene, Mrs. Hortense Dixon, Robert King, Miss Hazel Alexander, Mrs. Dorothy Reynolds, and Mrs. Jessie Johnson.

Voice of the Eastside

By MARY P. MCGUIRE

What a blessing it is to have real friends, not for what we can gain from them, but free from any selfish ends. There are some we must be careful about, as the chaff and grain are often together. We must take them and sife them, keeping those that are worth keeping and then with the breath of kindness blow the rest away.

Death claimed a life-long friend last week, Edgar T. Keller, 2201 Martindale avenue, was a friend to any in distress. His daughter, Mrs. Eloise Keller Richardson, now of Annapolis, Md. and I were inseparable while she was living here.

Funeral services for Mr. Keller were held Tuesday morning at the Jacobs Brothers Westside Chapel, with Rev. P. D. Jacobs officiating.

We are very proud of the "brightened" southeast corner of 16th street and Martindale avenue. Dropping in last week, I was informed by Mrs. Lena Brandon, a clerk, that "the place" would be called the "Community Corner." There's hardly a thing the store doesn't carry.

As president of the Eastside Better Business and Civic League, I am very much interested, and join the loads of others who with Miss Laura Wozniak, the owner and a very capable woman, huge success.

Watch this column for news of the beautiful business put up at 15th street and Columbia avenue if you have not been there, by all means go. Remember, a business started today means a job for someone tomorrow.

Speaking of real friends, I am sure Rev. John H. Patton, former pastor of Scott's Methodist Church, made many while he was here in our city, along with Rev. Harry O. McCutchen, Jr., superintendent of the Indiana District, both highly respected eastside ministers.

Rev. Patton has been called to Second Methodist Church in Anderson, while it has not been announced when Rev. McCutchen is. We pray for the success of these ministers in their new fields of labor.

Elder John Collins, pastor of the Church of God in Christ, has announced that Rev. V. L. Sanders of Sturgis, Ky., will hold a ten-night service at 528 Agnes street beginning June 9. Many eastsiders are planning to attend.

Sunday is Father's Day, and many churches plan to observe the occasion with special services. Greater St. Luke Baptist Church has planned a musical for Sunday night, featuring the Sacred Four and the Live Wire Singers.

At New Bethel Baptist Church, Dr. J. O. Clark, pastor, will preach a special sermon for the men. On Sunday night the church will honor all graduates in a special service. Wallace Wolfolk has been host to the graduates for a number of years.

Now a word on the visitors from out of town. Mr. and Mrs. Otis Greene, Evansville, stopped off to see relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Norris Wills, 1720 Columbia avenue, while en route to Cincinnati.

Joseph Richardson, Hot Springs, Ark., is spending his vacation with his sister, Mrs. Ardelia D. Walker, 2408 Martindale avenue, mother of David M. Walker, director of the Celestial choir and junior choir of Mt. Paran Baptist Church and the chorus of Barnes Methodist Church and 45 percent partner of McGuire's Letter Shop.

Miss Jacqueline Morgan, a summer graduate of the Nursing School of Milwaukee, was recent guest of her fiancé, Adolphe L. Richardson, 233 West Michigan street. They plan to "jump the broomstick" some time this summer, or the first of autumn.

The male chorus of Barnes Methodist Church was very busy last the Senate Avenue Branch YMCA.

Driving alone to Middletown, O., at night recently, once or twice I thought I was being followed, so put the pedal down to register 80 or so. Upon arriving, I told my friends what the meter said, and this is what they read to me:

Sing "While You Drive" At 45 miles per hour sing "Highways Are Happy Ways." At 55 miles sing "I Am but a Stranger Here, Heaven is my Home." At 65 sing "Nearer My God to Thee."

At 75 miles sing "When the Roll Is Called Up Yonder I'll Be There." At 85 sing "Lord, I'm Coming Home."

Leaving Middletown en route to Maysville, Ky., the largest tobacco center in the world, I decided that as much as I would like to go to that place called heaven, I didn't want to go just yet.

I enjoyed being in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Houston Lee and A. C. Williams, who read the poem to me.

Let's you forget, the eastside is still in its clean-up drive. Some alleys look very good. What are you doing to help in this effort? One hour a day can do much!

paper, The Union, a unique journalistic venture. His death closes one of the most colorful chapters in Negro journalism. The Union was characterized by its witty and poignant editorial style.

After being graduated from the Richmond high school in 1883, Dabney went to Oberlin college for a year, taught school at Richmond for eight years, and then conducted his own music studio in Boston for several years.

He came to Cincinnati in 1894 to manage a hotel, the Dumas house, which was started by his uncle who had died that year. He remained there until his death.

He opened the first colored gymnasium in the hotel where such fighters as Joe Gans, Kid Ashe, Bon Armstrong and many others trained.

Prominent in Music Field
Dabney later ventured into the music field and organized a mixed colored and white orchestra. He became a music teacher. Among his pupils were members of such noted families as the Fleischmanns, McDonalds, Wiborgs and others. He also taught the two Stallo daughters, both of whom later married European princes.

Often the center for prominent Republican party political rallies, the Dumas house later was sold to the president of the Western and Southern Life Insurance company.

Of all the positions which he held, Dabney perhaps liked the head paymastership of Cincinnati best. While serving as paymaster, he estimated that he had paid out about $80,000,000.

Dabney's reputation as a versatile person spread throughout the country. He had been the subject of many articles by such noted persons as Langston Hughes, poet, and the Rev. Adam Clayton Powell, representative (D. N. Y.).

Friends Included Notables
The walls of Dabney's office are covered with photographs of outstanding Negroes who were his friends. Among them are:

Paul Lawrence Dunbar, poet; C. W. Chesnut, novelist; Maggie L. Walker, bank president, whose biography Dabney wrote; Judge

Armond Scott of Washington; W. C. Handy, "father of the blues"; Dr. W. E. B. DuBois, writer; C. W. Wesley, president of Wilberforce university; Ira Aldridge, famed tragedian; Philippa Schuyler, child musical prodigy; Dr. Carl G. Roberts, Chicago surgeon and C. Francis Stradford, Chicago attorney.

For years Dabney had lived close to nature. Religiously every morning he went through an elaborate set of physical or setting-up exercises. He was proud of the fact that he could bend and touch his toes a score of times in succession. He watched his diet carefully, ate nuts and raisins and various simple foods most of the time, doing much of his cooking on a stove he kept in his office rather than in his elaborate Beecher Avenue mansion.

A devotee of fine arts, he owned a painting by Duncanson, the Cincinnati Negro painter, perhaps the earliest Negro exponent of fine arts. The Art Museum at the University of Cincinnati owns most of the other Duncansons. Another of his prize possessions was a painting by Henry Ossawa Tanner. The Dabney library was ranked among the two or three most extensive libraries owned by Negroes. He was especially proud of the extensive section on erotica.

Dabney was a member of the Crescent club and the Muscoli club, Washington. He was an independent in politics.

He is survived by his widow, and two stepsons, Maurice and Leo Jackson Dabney. Dabney's own son, Wendell P. Jr., died in 1893.

DR. BUNCHE LOSES MOCK ELECTION FOR PRESIDENT

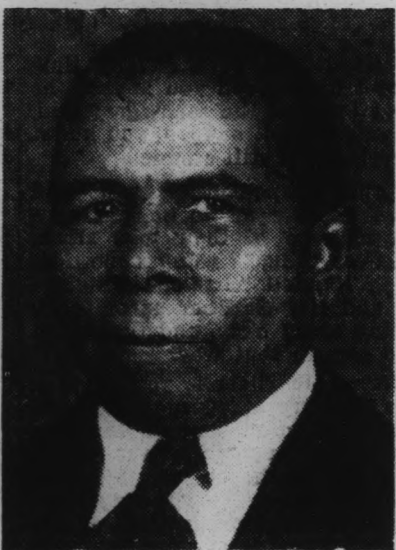

DETROIT (AP)—Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, of the United Nations, was defeated for the Democratic presidential nomination by Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois at a mock convention of Wayne University students.

In the meantime, some 300 students of both races gave Dr. Bunche a big ovation.

The noise lasted a full six minutes and had to be shut off arbitrarily, according to the rules.

The objective of the convention was to educate students in the procedure of a national convention.

Local Minister May Go To India As Missionary

REV. H. A. PERRY

The recent AME General Conference held in Chicago approved a resolution to send Rev. H. A. Perry, well-known Hoosier minister and retired educator, to India as a messenger and missionary.

Rev. Perry had asked that he be sent as Bishop to India since Christian representatives had requested that he be sent to them as their bishop. Also he felt that the work there could be done more effectively if he were sent as their bishop.

However, he believes the salvation of India is vastly more important than his being made a bishop. Rev. Perry says that he is willing to go and plans to go with in a year to attempt to plant the AME Church in India.

Members of the St. John AME Church here, of which Rev. Perry is the pastor, say they will help send him to India to look the field over and see what the prospects are of setting up the work of the AME Church in that country. Also other prominent local members of the AME Church pledged their support to sending him to India.

Fred L. Russell

Funeral services for Fred Lee Russell, age 64, 2618 Indianapolis avenue, were held in the Patton Funeral Home, Monday, June 9. The burial was in Crown Hill cemetery. He died in the General hospital Friday, June 6.

He was born in Raleigh, N.C., and had lived here 35 years. He was a former chef cook on the Pennsylvania Lines and lately had been chauffeur for Dr. J. F. Barnhill, here and in Miami, Fla. He was in Florida when he became ill. He was a member of the First Baptist church of North Indianapolis and the Interracial Club, Miami. Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Estella Russell; three sons, Fred Lee Russell, Jr., Philadelphia; Donald Grant and Robert David Russell, city; and three daughters, Mrs. Cecelia Jackson, Mrs. Thelma Wise, and Mrs. Carolyn Francis. Registered Nurse, and nine grandchildren.

John W. Fenwick

Funeral services for John Walter Fenwick, age 52, 929 S. Illinois street, were held in the St. Bridget's Roman Catholic church Wednesday, June 11. The burial was in Holy Cross cemetery. He died in his home Saturday, June 7.

He was a native of Waverly, Ky., and had lived here 35 years. He was a member of the St. Bridget's church. He was employed at the Indianapolis Brass Foundry.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Anna Fenwick; a son, Walter Fenwick; two brothers, Robert Fenwick, Chicago, and George Fenwick, Louisville, Ky.; four sisters, Mrs. Lena Travis, Louisville, Ky., Mrs. Carrie Sansberry, and Mrs. Anna M. Raper, Waverly, Ky. and Mrs. Ida Flint, city.

The problem is to reach these people. That is the reason for the direct appeal to the members—as well as to former members who have been inactive but are still loyal to the NAACP in their hearts.

In fact, all persons who desire to strive for civil rights are asked to come in and join in the campaign, whether they have been NAACP members or not.

"Do not think that anyone else can do it for you!" Dr. Jordan warned. "Your children will face the same conditions 20 years from today if YOU do not work unceasingly to eradicate them today!"

Those unable to attend the meeting were asked to mail $2 in currency or a check to Mrs. Edna Johnson, Chairman NAACP Membership Campaign, 242 W. Vermont st., Indianapolis, Ind.

Business Places Aid
Through the efforts of Mrs. Johnson, a number of business places have agreed to serve as "recruiting stations" for persons desiring to join. These include The Recorder, 518 Indiana ave.; Madam C. J. Walker Co., 617 Indiana ave., 4th floor; Sea H. Ferguson, 242 W. Vermont; Walker Drugstore, Indiana ave. and West st.; Baird Cleaners, 625 Indiana ave.; James Pharmacy, 301 W. 21st st.; and Harris Bros. Studio, 631 N. West st.

An Eastside rally was held Tuesday at Mt. Moriah Baptist Church, 15th st. and Martindale ave. Speakers included Dr. Jordan and Rev. George Tate, who is co-chairman of the drive.

Dr. C. H. Bell is general chairman and Mrs. Jeanetta Greene is a co-chairman.

Eisenhower. The convention adopted a party platform that may or may not provoke some more "heat."

The platform pledged a thorough housecleaning of "disreputable, dishonest and degenerate public employees," took an isolationist view of foreign affairs, opposed any new state taxes, demanded improvement in administration of state affairs, promised better administration of state institutions and a highway safety program, and made the usual gesture in verbiage regarding rights of all citizens without regard to race, creed or color.

If the Hoosier GOP has any ideas about equality of citizenship, and implementation of civil rights including an adequate FEPC, pronouncements as to such will have to come later, if at all.

Sen. William E. Jenner was unanimously acclaimed a candidate to succeed himself in Congress.

Others Named

Other candidates nominated were Harold W. Handley for lieutenant-governor; Crawford F. Parker, secretary of state; John Peters, state treasurer; Naval Lieut. Edwin K. Steers attorney-general; Frank T. Millis (incumbent), state auditor; Wilbur Young (incumbent), superintendent of public instruction; Mrs. Virginia B. Caylor, reporter Supreme and Appellate Court; John A. Kendall, Appellate Court judge, first district; Dewey Kelley, Appellate Court judge, second district; and James A. Emmert (incumbent), Supreme Court judge, second district.

from Judge Steckler's decision, file suit in the Marion County Probate Court, or drop the matter altogether.

Defense attorneys, well aware of the costliness of long-drawn-out legal procedures in cases like this, see little hope of Perry's winning a reversal of Judge Steckler's ruling.

It is not expected that a similar suit will be filed in the county probate court because that court has on numerous occasions upheld the validity of the wills under attack, and the management of the company and its affairs by the former and present executive officials.

Brokenburr Hails Decision
Attorney Brokenburr, former state senator and candidate for reelection, in a prepared statement for the company said:

"The court's decision merely strengthens what we have always contended—that there has never been any merit to the Perrys' case."

"The Madam Walker company during the many years of its history has sought to carry out explicitly the letter and spirit of the wills of our great founder and her daughter."

"Our victory in this first round vindicates our faith and determination."

"In the meantime, we are carrying out an expansion program of Walker company activities intended to increase the sales of our hair and skin cosmetics, following the very successful pilgrimage to the Madam Walker grave and national convention held in New York City early this spring."

"We wish to express our thanks to the many thousands of agents, customers and friends who have helped us maintain the quality of service in our business that we feel they so richly deserve."

an outstanding criminal lawyer through many years' experience as a deputy prosecutor.

Mance, also a former deputy prosecutor, is presently a referee in the Juvenile Court, and considered an able legal practitioner in his field.

The Beasons told police that McKay had attacked the husband after the latter upbraided him for attempting to rape Mrs. Beason. He made a signed statement, detectives said, saying he grabbed the axe and swung hard and often when McKay, a husky, stockily built man of 45, rushed at him (Beason) with a knife.

Against this account of what happened, detectives were considering the facts that McKay's body was found across the bed which was soaked with blood, indicating a blow might have been struck while the victim was lying on the bed; there was no sign of a struggle and McKay was known for his ability to defend himself in an argument; that the Beasons told conflicting stories of what had happened, and that there was reason to suspect that a relationship existed between the parties which would make a charge of a rape attempt by McKay too far-fetched and ridiculous.

Detectives hope to secure enough evidence to win a first degree murder indictment against Beason by the grand jury.

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's statement, issued at his press conference at Abilene, Kan., to the effect that he is in favor of states controlling FEPC legislation, has touched off a request by the NAACP that he reconsider and clarify his position on this issue.

The Republican aspirant to the presidency said at that time:

"I believe we can do more by leadership and by getting the states to do so than by making it a federal law or compulsory thing."

Walter White, executive secretary of the NAACP, in a wire asked the general:

"Would appreciate clarification of this statement."

"The failure of 37 of the states to take any affirmative action to assure equality of job opportunity points to the urgency of the need for federal action in this area."

"In view of this alarming failure, we urge you to reconsider today's statement in the light of your affirmation of 'unalterable support of fairness among all American citizens' and a willingness 'to fight for it' and, accordingly, to lend the great prestige of your name to the American fight for job equality through enactment of an FEPC law with enforcement powers."

At that same press conference, General Eisenhower was equally as vague on his attitude toward appointing a Negro of the caliber of Dr. Ralph Bunche to his cabinet if elected.

While expressing admiration for Dr. Bunche, Gen. Eisenhower was vague and talked in generalities about appointing the best men for his cabinet.

NEW LAW IN SOUTH AFRICA TO CURB POWER OF HIGH COURT

JOHANNESBURG, UNION OF SOUTH AFRICA (AP)—A bill taking from the Supreme Court its power as the highest judicial authority in the land became law in the Union of South Africa when Gov. Gen. Ernest G. Jansen signed it.

This bill, inspired by the Nationalist party headed by "white supremacists," Dr. Daniel F. Malan, prime minister of South Africa, makes the nation's parliament the highest judicial power of the land. It can now override a decision of the Supreme Court.

Dr. Malan proposed this law, after the Supreme Court recently ruled a bill reducing the voting power of coloreds (mixed blood persons) unconstitutional. When this restrictive voting law passed, it left all the suffrage in South Africa in the hands of whites, outnumbered 4 to 1 in that nation.

In the meantime, the nation is observing its 42nd anniversary of the formation of the Union. While the 42nd anniversary of the formation of the Union of South Africa was being celebrated in Johannesburg, non-white leaders urged South Africa to rise against what they called "this racial arrogance and tide of fascism" in Daniel Malan's white supremacist government.

The high command of a united passive resistance movement announced "a well planned, disciplined and non-violent" struggle against race laws unjust to non-whites will be launched on a nationwide scale June 26.

A statement said five members of the organization ordered by the government to retire from public activities on grounds that they are Communists, will touch off the campaign this week by defying the orders. They expect to go to jail. Their vow is to carry on until they reach national freedom. Though the 10,000,000 non-whites outnumber the whites here more than four to one, revolt is still far from near. They have not the arms, organization nor leadership.

Conditions among the Negroes, Indians and colored people have never been too good and Malan is not solely to blame, being in power only four years. The pattern of the master-servant relationship in South Africa was legalized in the 19th century but Malan has widened the pattern, made it more severe and is trying to make it foolproof.

The Negro, by far the most numerous of all races in the Union, is often affected by disease, poverty and malnutrition, more so than other groups. He cannot leave a reserve, buy a railroad ticket or get a job without a government man's say so. He is subject to curfew laws in many cities and skilled trades are barred to him and it is with difficulty that any at all become doctors and lawyers.

Detroit Man Guilty in Fatal Beating of Child

DETROIT (AP)—Robert Lewis, 33, was found guilty last week of manslaughter in connection with fatally beating a 4-year-old girl, Victoria Beard. He will be sentenced June 17.

Lewis testified more than two hours before a jury in the court room of Recorder Judge Paul F. Krause.

Lewis told the court that Victoria was a good child.

"I instructed Vickie and Estelle Davis, five-year-old girl who roomed at the Lewis boarding home to care for one another as sisters. We provided for the girls the best to our ability."

Lewis told the court that he noticed a knot on Victoria's forehead several days before her death. He said when he questioned the child she said she "ran into a door while playing."

Lewis declared that he gave Victoria a light spanking because she refused to tell him the truth about striking Estelle with a toy telephone.

Lewis demonstrated to the jury how he whipped Victoria. He used the same small strap on the body of his attorney.

Under cross-examination by Assistant Prosecutor William J. Patrick, Jr., Lewis said he had punished Victoria on only two other occasions.

One of the star witnesses was William Fuebinger. He told the court that the beating administered by Lewis had nothing to do with the death of the child. He said the real cause of Victoria's death was a blow on the head several days before the child's death.

GARY WOMAN GETS LIFE TERM FOR KILLING HER MATE

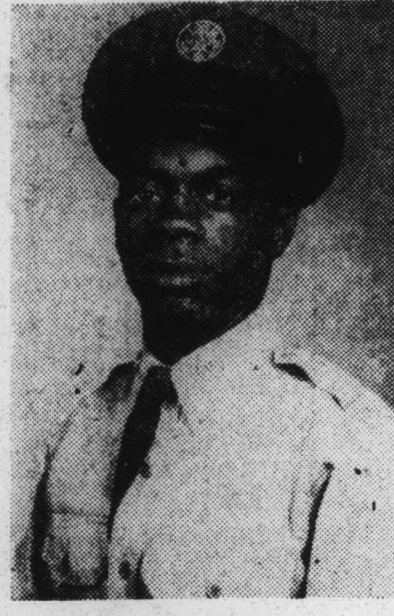

GARY — Mrs. Lee Bessie Clanton, 23-year-old local woman who shot and killed her husband, was sentenced to life in prison last week by Judge William J. Murray in Lake Criminal Court.

According to evidence presented during the trial, Mrs. Clanton objected when her husband, Joseph, age 32, returned home on June 18, 1951, with his shirt smeared with lipstick, after she had "warned" him about the lipstick smudges before.

During the ensuing violent quarrel, Mrs. Clanton grabbed a gun from her husband's hand and shot him to death.

She claimed the gun was discharged accidentally during a fight.

Teen Talk

By THE SNOOPER

Well, it has been a long time since I have given you any of the latest dope of the teen-age world, but things will happen, you know. Everything is still atomic.

Virgil "Napoleon" Barnett and Ellen Hayes seem to be making a real nice go of their love affair, and everything is going smoothly.

Randall "Stretch" Hutchinson and Iris Gardner seem to be getting along okay, and they want it to remain that way.

Norma Jo Nichols, you made a very nice try at winning Cantrell Mitz's affection, but it seems as though the opposition was just a little too much for you, meaning Virtis Williams. . . . Betty Brown and Hilton Hudson are still on the up and up, being very much in love with each other. How long it will last, I cannot say.

Skinny Alexander still is without a babe to call his own and is in desperation for one, so won't one of you babes give him a break? I've heard people ask if Patsy Wright is his girl. Well, Skinny says she is just a friend and there is nothing personal. So, you see, he is very much alone.

Ferdinand Edwards and Ollie Harper are still running circles around each other. Now, let's not kid ourselves, children. . . . You might also like to know that Harold Harvey was supposed to be taking Elnora Hartz to the senior prom, while Cantrell Mitz had Virtis sewed up. I'm sure Donald Toler had a nice time. Right, Norma?

Harold Eastern, Seth Smith, and

Mitchell Dailey were back in town balling as good as they wanted to. Have fun, fellows, but please don't have too much and go over the hill. Dig what I mean?

I hear and have witnesses that Jesse Cannady is really killing for all the ribs at Attucks, or should I say that they kill for him? When I say Jesse is really terrible, I do mean terrible. . . . My friend Robert Penick, is still killing for girls in general, and it seems they have no complaints.

Did you know that Barbara Hart, one of Atucks's outstanding majorettes, has completely gone out of her head for Paul Parker who plays drums with Cantrell's combo? Don't fool yourself and think she kills for his drumming only because you would sure be wrong. From the way she carries on, you can see she would be for him even if he couldn't beat a box top.

I guess I don't have to tell you that Donna Mae and her only hope in life, George Robinson, were strutting to the prom with bells on. If they couldn't have gone together, there probably would have been no prom.

Cleveland Harp, can't you see that Divie Ann Johnson has put you aside like she would an old dress. Your only hope is during basketball season, so let's just hope Psi Upsilons Endow New Chair At Cornell U.

ITHACA, N.Y. — Completion of a $660,000 endowment for a chair and program in the field of "American values" at Cornell was announced this week by Deane W. Malott, president of the university.

The chair was created by Mrs. John L. Senior of New York and Lenox, Mass., and members of her family as a memorial to her husband, a Cornell alumnus and leader in the cement industry. The fund was completed by a substantial gift from Psi Upsilon fraternity, of which Mr. Senior was a member. The Psi Upsilon effort was led by Nicholas H. Noyes, a member of the fraternity who is chairman of the Finance Committee of Eli Lilly & Co., Indianapolis, and a trustee of Cornell.

The endowment was initiated in 1950 to underwrite teaching and research leading to "greater understanding of the heritages, traditions and freedoms of American society." Achievement of the goal will permit immediate activation of the program, Mr. Malott said.

and pray that she doesn't find any one before then.

I hear Charles Walton is really making progress for himself — a good scholarship plus a beautiful babe, namely Miss Barbara "Boo" Davenport. Say there, Walton, may I have at least one of your honors?

..... (NEWS OF PLACES AND PEOPLE)

INDIANA MOTORISTS, or motorists on the highways of the state were in more than 100,700 reported accidents during the year of 1951 according to reports of the Indiana State Police. More than 1,240 persons were killed in motor accidents and more than 32,800 were injured.

The accident total is reported as an all-time high, and the resultant economic loss is estimated at more than $115,000,000. The Indiana traffic death rate for 1951 was up 11 per cent over the 1950 rate, while the national rate was up only 7 per cent. More than 70 per cent of the traffic fatalities occurred on the open roads.

Researchers connected with a study of traffic safety, on the state and national level, report many traffic casualties are caused by the placement and design of equipment and furnishings of motor vehicle interiors. Fifty-four per cent of the fatal head injuries were received inside the motor vehicles, when the occupants were thrown forward against the steering wheel, windshield, instrument panel or interior projections.

The passengers in the right front seat were generally the most unlucky in collisions. The right-front location claimed 70 per cent of the victims identified as passengers, while 23 per cent of the passenger group occupied the back seat. In cases where vehicles had two or more passengers, 66 per cent of the fatalities were passengers and the remaining 34 per cent were drivers.

The department did not consider its findings conclusive, but it indicated that the tragic results of traffic crashes can be minimized in several ways, including the making of motor vehicle interiors safer. To this might be added sane driving and sane action as a motorist, or otherwise users of the streets and highways in any other manner. We finally venture that some people are not going to live to a ripe old age if they continue getting out of motor vehicles on the left-hand side (into the traffic) rather than on the right-hand side away from the moving traffic.

DR. ALLAN KNIGHT CHALMERS, New York minister and professor of applied Christianity at Boston University School of Theology, speaking in Atlanta, Ga. recently mentioned the many opportunities for service by those who have staunch religious and moral convictions. He admonished that people who call themselves Christians should be able to be identified as such. He informed his listeners that this world would never forget Jesus Christ, not because of what he said, but because of his good deeds.

The noted theologian, educator and author, declared that men have the right to die for what they believe in and that there are individuals who hate injustices even more than they want to live.

Referring to the pattern of segregation that is being practiced in our land, Dr. Chalmers said, "There is no way for any decent Christian person to be able to justify the segregation which is the pattern North and South in the United States today."

Dr. Chalmers appears to have spoken in the spirit of Christian charity, yet he observed that "there is no way" to justify the pattern of segregation—contemplating that there are decent Christians. We submit that it has been characteristically human to justify all man's

West Africa Punishes Crime by Flogging

By ARTHUR M. THROWER
LONDON (ANP)—Here is a list of offenses that may be punished by corporal punishment in British West Africa. This punishment may be awarded in the courts, excluding the native courts.

In all colonies except the Gold Coast there are a number of offenses which may be punished in this way. The Gold Coast government has recently introduced an ordinance intended to abolish the use of flogging except for certain very serious offenses.

Flogging may be ordered for adults and for juveniles. Gambia prescribes that flogging may be ordered for the procuring of a woman or girl for immoral purposes, for disabling any person in order to commit a felony or misdemeanor, for robbery and attempted robbery with violence in each case, and for attempted murder by a convict.

Children may be flogged for any offense for which imprisonment would otherwise be ordered.

In Sierra Leone, adults may be flogged for rape, indecent assault on any female or robbery with violence. Children may be flogged for any offense punishable in any way other than with the death injustice to man—yet:

It's the muddle of hope and madness;
It's the tangle of good and badness;
It's the lunacy linked with sanity

DR. ALAN VALENTINE, recently director of the Economic Stabilization Agency and former president of the University of Rochester (N.Y.) speaking in New York recently declared that Western civilization is losing ground all over the world, because of rapid population growth in the East. Further he described overpopulation in Asia as a "crucial factor in our personal futures."

Dr. Valentine, president of the Committee for a Free Asia told his audience, "More than we realize, we Americans are only a minority in the world population. The traditions we cherish, the concepts we hold most dear, are little known and little valued in many areas of the world."

"That minority which is our Western civilization is shrinking in proportion to the increases in human life elsewhere . . . it has lost ground all over the world in the last decade."

"As a free minority we must work with the majority who have, or seek freedom. We must find and encourage Asians who will work with us and let us work with them. We must not try to win or force them to our ways but to help them develop in their way solutions in line with our common aims."

Dr. Valentine has traveled in Asia and elsewhere over the world, wherever increasing numbers of human beings abide in misery and poverty or despair. Yet they are dubious of certain features of our "glorious way of life." And it does not readily appear that we shall have "common aims, nor will we be able by and stretch of the imagination to force them around to the role of followers, rather than leaders in their own spheres of action and interest."

Dear Sir: Friends, Edward Zebulon Brees and Ling Fox during their last weekly visit and chat discussed individuals seeking the major parties' nominations for President. They mixed a "pretty kettle of metaphor" in their reflections upon men and issues.

The press of the land generally has done both major parties a poor service, or a disservice, if all the news that is fit to print has been printed about potential nominees for President. "EASY BREEZE" ventured in a humorous mood.

Whereupon his friend of long standing, "MR. FOOLIN" observed, "The trouble is that the people of the land need to hear some of the news (about the various hopefuls) that is not fit to print. And a good 'DARK HORSE' might come out of the clouds at Chicago and go down to Washington on the 'November show.' " "EASY BREEZE" concluded, "Well spoken, me that and that reminds me that since there is 'no entry from Missouri'—the Little Corporal from New York ought to feel very disgusted, not having thrown his fedora or topper in the midst of the rampant array of 'nightcaps.' "

Very truly yours,

Simpson Methodist Church Has New Pastor from Ohio

Simpson Methodist Church, for many years one of the city's leading congregations, has welcomed a new minister. He is Rev. J. Inman Dixon, who, although comparatively young, has already made an outstanding record for himself in service to the church.

As a result of appointments made at the Lexington Annual Conference of the Methodist Church, Detroit, last month, Rev. Dixon was moved here from Dayton, where he has accomplished almost unbelievable feats.

In the active ministry for 23 years, the 41-year-old minister has been preaching since he was 14. He was 18 when asked to take a church at Dixon, Tenn. to fill out the term of an older minister.

At that time connected with the Tennessee Conference, he transferred to the Atlanta Conference while attending Gammon Theological Seminary, then came to the Lexington Conference, with which he has been associated since.

Formerly at Anderson, Tenn., he was pastor for five years of Second Methodist Church at Anderson, attending Butler University in Indianapolis during that time.

In Atlanta he pastored the "college church," South Atlanta Methodist, right off Clark University campus. From there he went to Rome, Ga., where he was minister at Metropolitan Methodist Church. Moving from the South to the North the young minister took out a year to devote himself to boys' work, a phase of his active ministry that he still looks on with fondness.

While pastor of McKinley Methodist Church, one of Dayton's largest, Rev. Dixon made church history with two outstandingly successful projects. One, a new "curia" appropriately named Dixon Methodist, in its existence of two years has grown to a congregation of 200 members employing a full-time minister.

And just a few months ago the aggressive young man of God headed a drive in which a $12,000 "laymen's home" was purchased and an outpost church established in two of the home's ten rooms.

In a developing area where no church at all had been located, the new project quickly grew to boast of a group of 80 children.

Well Educated
Realizing that the uneducated minister is at a distinct disadvantage in attempting to lead today's churches, Rev. Dixon has equipped himself well for the ministry. He holds the bachelor of science degree from Tennessee State College, Nashville; the bachelor of divinity from Gammon Theological Seminary, the master's in the psychology of religion from Butler University, and has done the major part of work toward a doctorate in philosophy at Ohio State University.

In addition, he spends a major part of each summer studying in the East. He has completed a course in alcoholism at Yale University, finished a summer course at American University in Washington on the post-war world, and will on July 7 leave for New York for his third annual attendance at the ministers' conference for religious leaders at the Union Theological Seminary.

At the noon recess Rev. Wolfe and five other New York delegates escorted Mrs. Harris from the Division of Orthopedics and Mrs. Ruth B. Ballard.

Miss Claudette James of Georgia, a past president of the NHA, made the formal presentation of the play equipment to Dr. I. A. Derbigny, vice-president of Tuskegee, who accepted it in behalf of the Institute.

Her statement produced an immediate response from the Rev. Dr. Paul Austin Wolfe, pastor of the Brick Presbyterian church and moderator of the Presbytery of New York. He invited the delegate to luncheon with him.

logical Seminary.
Not an "isolationist," the minister has also been very active in civic affairs wherever he went, serving as president of the NAACP in Dayton, as an active member of the YMCA, and of course in the Interdenominational Ministerial Alliance.

Planning a "chiefly reconstructional" program for the city's oldest Negro Methodist Church, the minister declared, "The church must be a CHURCH and nothing else. It must get up and go, or it has no business here."

Church "Challenged"
"These are times when the church is challenged. If it is any good, it must prove it. If not, it should close its doors."

Simpson's new pastor is very fond of music and thinks he might have become a good pianist had he devoted much time to the study of that instrument. As it is, he still plays whenever he gets a chance, mostly for his own relaxation or possibly to be inspired to think up things to say when he preaches sermons on such themes as "Life Can Be Beautiful," his theme for next Sunday's talk at his church.

With his wife, the former Miss Tommie Hinton, whom he married eleven years ago, Rev. Dixon is staying temporarily in the home of Mrs. Esther Nail, 2941 Paris avenue.

He hints that the church may have news after June 29, when a special paragonage project committee of volunteer leaders makes a report to the congregation.

N. C. Educator Granted Honor By Chicago U.

CHICAGO (ANP)—Hardy Liston Sr., president of Johnson C. Smith University, Charlotte, N.C., Saturday, June 7, was one of 33 distinguished University of Chicago alumni who received citations of merit at the June reunion-alumni assembly in Leon Mandel Hall on the campus here.

The citations, established during the university's 50th anniversary in 1941, are presented in recognition of public service. The highlight of the annual June reunion, the citations have been presented to 350 alumni, including the 1952 group.

Liston received both his bachelor's degree and his master's degree from the University of Chicago. He served as president of Johnson C. Smith since 1947.

Before coming to the university, he was dean of Knoxville College, Winston-Salem Teachers college and director of the academic department of Kittrell college.

Editor of the Quarterly Review of Higher Education among Negroes, Liston served as chairman of a three-man study committee writing A Study of Community Life of Negro Youth for the Commission on Institutions of Higher Education.

He also served as a member of the special committee of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church, U.S.A., from 1948-50, and now is a member of the Council on Theological Education of the Presbyterian church.

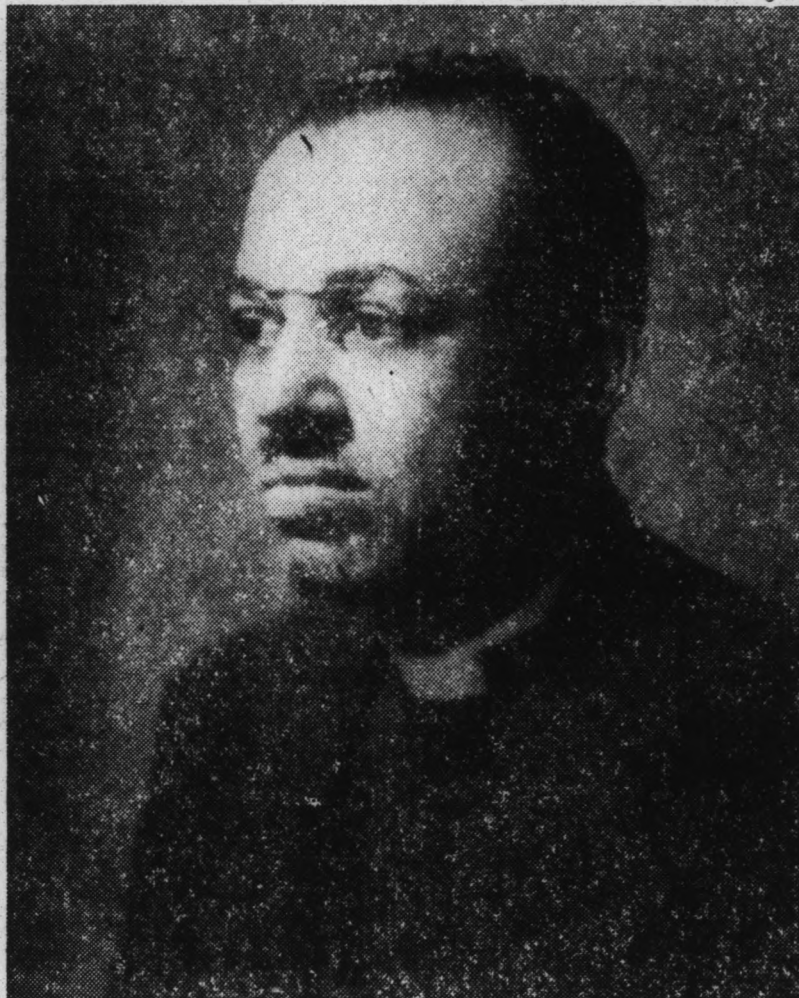

Gets Six Escorts After Complaint Of Eating Alone
NEW YORK (ANP)—An elderly, gray-haired woman, Mrs. Lillie B. Harris, last week found that she had more escorts than she needed after she had complained of having to eat her meals alone during sessions of the Presbyterian conference here.

Mrs. Harris, a delegate from Augusta, Ga., told churchmen she had eaten most of her meals in lonely solitude because "you aren't ready to accept me as a sister in Christ."

Her statement produced an immediate response from the Rev. Dr. Paul Austin Wolfe, pastor of the Brick Presbyterian church and moderator of the Presbytery of New York. He invited the delegate to luncheon with him.

Capital Matron Faces Trial on Drug Charges

WASHINGTON (ANP)—Mrs. Beatrice P. Maloney, 51, a school teacher, was placed under a $15,000 bond last week, awaiting grand jury action on the charge of forging prescriptions for a synthetic drug.

U.S. Commissioner Cyril S. Lawrence refused the government request to set her bond at $2,000 on the assumption that the woman needed hospitalization rather than prosecution. "She's more to be pitied than censured," he said.

The commissioner based his decision on Mrs. Maloney's claim that she took the drug to relieve pain which persisted since an operation she underwent several years ago.

A graduate of Howard University, Mrs. Maloney was teaching in the Randall Junior high school where she has been employed since 1940.

She is the wife of Dr. Arnold H. Maloney, a member of the Howard University faculty, and the mother of Arnold Jr., also a physician.

The teacher was arrested at her home after an investigation revealed that 22 prescriptions for synthetic morphine made out to her and signed with her brother-in-law's name, had been filled in various drugstores throughout the city.

According to Capt. John B. Layton, chief of the narcotics squad, the teacher admitted that she stole the slips from her brother-in-law, L. H. Maloney, filled them out for the drug, and forged his name.

It was reported that on several occasions she sent her junior high school pupils to drug stores to have the forged prescriptions filled for her, carefully avoiding any drug stores in the area in which Dr. Maloney practices.

Detectives began an investigation of Mrs. Maloney when routine checks of the drug stores disclosed a large number of prescriptions for Demoral (a synthetic morphine) bearing her name.

Following her arraignment, Mrs. Maloney was suspended from her school duties by C. Nelson Sharpe, president of the D.C. school board. After signing the suspension papers issued by Dr. Hobart Corning, District school superintendent, Sharpe said the school would await court disposition of the case before taking further action.

Mrs. Maloney's record as a teacher of typing and business subjects has been very satisfactory during her 12 years' service at Randall junior high.

Class Theme Stressed By Group of Graduates

Pres. Truman To Address Howard Grads

WASHINGTON (ANP)—The President of the United States will deliver the commencement address at Howard University on June 13, according to an announcement by Dr. Mordecai W. Johnson.

In accepting the invitation to speak at the Howard commencement exercises, the President stated, "I am thinking of the hundreds of graduates and thousands of Howard alumni who are devoting their lives to the betterment of a whole people. I feel they are entitled to some recognition and thanks by the President of the United States, who represents all of the people of the United States."

Honorary degrees will be awarded to Paul Revere Williams, outstanding architect, educator and author of Los Angeles, and Judge Julius Waring of South Carolina. Williams will receive the honorary degree of doctor of architecture, and Judge Waring the honorary degree of doctor of laws.

Both honorees will speak at the trustees' dinner for recipients of honorary degrees to be held in Baldwin hall following commencement exercises.

Dr. Johnson delivered the baccalaureate sermon at services held on the campus Sunday, June 8. Other participants in the service included the Rev. Robert W. Brooks, pastor of the Lincoln Temple Congregational church, who delivered the invocation and benediction, and the Rev. Edward L. R. Elson, pastor of the National Presbyterian church, who read scripture and led a prayer.

Dr. R. J. Bunche To Speak for African Confab

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (ANP)—Probably the most important conference on Africa held in recent years is scheduled to open June 16 for a nine-day session at Wittenberg college here.

Sponsored by the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A. through the Foreign Missions Division, Africa committee, the conference is expected to attract more than 300 delegates, representing five governments south of the Sahara, the United Nations, the U.S. state department, certain universities, and 30 major Protestant denominations.

The theme of the meeting will be "The Changing Racial, Economic, and Political Conditions in Africa south of the Sahara, and the Role of the Christian Church and Mission to Them."

The purpose of the conference is as follows:

1. The application of Christianity to the social, political, economic, and religious problems of African life.
2. The study of the human and institutional tensions caused by a transition from a primitive and tribal society into a modern civilization.
3. An evaluation of past relations between the East and the West with a view to their application to African colonial territories.
4. To stimulate action on the part of Protestant churches in this country as well as missions and churches in Africa to shape policies and procedures more in line with the changing needs and conditions in Africa.

Dr. Ralph Bunche, director of the U.N. trusteeship division, and Dr. Channing H. Tobias, director of the Phelps-Stokes fund, will be among the principal speakers at the African affairs conference.

Dr. John A. Reuling, Boston, secretary for Africa and Latin America of the American board of commissioners for Foreign Missions of the Congregational Christian churches, will be chairman of the assembly. Dr. Clarence C. Stoughton, president of Wittenberg college, will serve as conference host.

The suit was initiated by Atty. H. Franklin Brown and Kermit Bailer, members of the NAACP Legal Redress committee.

Named as defendants are Patrolmen Raleigh Bolio, and Mullins Jackson, who are accused of attacking Jones outside of a bar at 2725 Woodward.

The officers were charged with assault and battery and false arrest.

The youth was taken to the Woodward police station, where no charges were preferred against him. He was then taken to the Receiving hospital, where he was treated for injuries and shock.

Bolio and Jackson were suspended from the police force for six days and lost 30-day leave as a result of the incident.

EX-SLAVE, AGE 104, DIES IN DETROIT

DETROIT (ANP)—Funeral services were held Wednesday at the Calvary Baptist Church for Mrs. Amelia Clifton Lowther, 104, an ex-slave.

She was born Dec. 11, 1847, a slave of the Harvard family at Lawrence Hill, Ga.

The Rev. Jacob C. Oglesby, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, officiated at the rites.

According to reports, Mrs. Lowther was an ardent church-woman throughout her life, and was allowed by her master during slavery to attend the white church until after Emancipation.

EVANSVILLE — "Challenges of Youth" was the theme of the commencement exercises of Lincoln High School held last week in the school auditorium.

Eight members of the class outlined to the 85 graduates the forthcoming challenges of life.

Miss Barbara Turner, class valedictorian, told the graduates they need to develop good character and a pleasing personality if they are going to meet the challenges which lie ahead.

Urging them to choose their friends wisely, she also pointed out the necessity for learning both direct and indirect leadership.

Speaking on "The Challenge of Health," Miss Lucille Snaden, class salutatorian, warned her fellow graduates that good health is necessary to meet what comes.

Members of the class should have further educational goals in life, even if they do not plan to go to college, said Henrietta Rowan in her talk on "The Challenge of Our Continuing Education."

Miss Rowan, pointing out that association with other persons can increase one's learning, said "We should cultivate a healthy curiosity."

"We have all gone to school to learn, if we stop learning now," she asserted.

The need of choosing a mate wisely was emphasized by Dorothy Coffield, speaking on "The Challenge of Satisfaction in Home Life."

Pointing out the willingness to give, and take as a necessary part of marriage, she said "You should consider what you desire and what you have to give before selecting a mate."

Education is the humble beginning of life, Fenita Smith told her other members of her graduating class.

Addressing the group on "The Challenge of Labor and Industry," she declared that all persons cannot be doctors or lawyers. On the way up, she said, all graduates should perform all jobs, however humble, as if they were as important as the big job.

"There is no place in the world of opportunity for those who are lazy, unskilled, and lacking ambition," Meina Stone said in her talk on "The Challenge of Leadership." More foresight must belong to the leader than to those around him, she asserted.

The importance of religion as a vital element in a well-rounded education was stressed by Abbie Stone, speaking on "The Challenge of Religion."

She pointed out that "Religion insists that knowledge is not enough. No education is complete if it doesn't give the knowledge of moral conduct found in religion."

Addressing the group on "The Challenge of Our Leisure Time," Maymie Talbot urged the seniors to use their leisure time wisely. She said that hobbies such as gardening, handicrafts, music, art, and good reading are all good ways to spend leisure hours.

Rev. J. M. Caldwell gave the invocation at the opening of the commencement exercises, and Harold Jackson, class president, welcomed the guests.

The school principal, Dr. Charles E. Rochelle, presented the class to Wilbur C. Clippinger, member of the board of school trustees, who awarded the diplomas.

Detroit NAACP Files $10,000 Suit Against Police

DETROIT (ANP)—A $10,000 damage suit was filed in Circuit court recently against two Detroit policemen who, it is charged, while off duty and under the influence of whiskey, beat and kicked Milton Jones, 22.

Jones was assaulted Oct. 17, 1951.

The suit was initiated by Atty. H. Franklin Brown and Kermit Bailer, members of the NAACP Legal Redress committee.

Named as defendants are Patrolmen Raleigh Bolio, and Mullins Jackson, who are accused of attacking Jones outside of a bar at 2725 Woodward.

The officers were charged with assault and battery and false arrest.

FAIR EMPLOYMENT FALLACIES

Some of the views on Fair Employment currently circulating around the nation are just about as wrong as wrong could be.

For instance, there is the idea that "we cannot cure all of the evils in men's hearts by law."

The kindest thing that can be said about this argument is that it has been thoroughly demolished many times. No one is proposing to cure all of the evils, or any of the evils, in men's hearts by law. The purpose of a compulsory FEPC—just like the laws against speeding and murder—is to penalize certain wrong and evil ACTIONS of men. As for the hatred in their hearts, that is the business of the Almighty.

Then there is the second fallacy that more could be accomplished by "getting the states to do it than by making it a Federal compulsory thing."

This newspaper, of course, favors the adoption of Fair Employment legislation by the states. We might observe that we, along with other fair-minded citizens of Indiana, have been trying vainly for years to get the Hoosier state to set up a real FEPC. But when you consider that there are such states in the Union as Mississippi and Georgia, it is obvious that only the Federal government can take effective action in this field.

Leaders who are sincerely interested in ending discrimination in employment—rather than "keeping the Negro in his economic place"—recognize that the time is long past due for the enactment of Fair Employment Practice legislation, "with teeth," by the U. S. Congress.

HITLER ELECTION TACTICS

The civic peace has been disturbed in recent weeks by the entrance into the political campaign of The Labor Digest, unsavoury publication which is edited by Norman A. Zolezzi at Pennsylvania and North streets.

This hate-sheet, whose stock-in-trade is rabid race prejudice, was long ago exposed as having no connection whatever with organized labor. In fact, despite its misleading name, it is violently opposed to everything that labor stands for.

The current issue of the Digest which has scandalized the city is devoted to a below-the-belt attack on Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. Every trick in the late Adolf Hitler's book is used in the effort to link General Eisenhower with Jewish persons and organizations, and with Communism. The fact that all of it is transparently false and fraudulent does not bother The Labor Digest any more than it bothered the Nazis.

The fascist picture would not be complete without some anti-Negro material, and so in passing the Digest takes a swipe at the abolition of segregated schools. Past issues of the publication have contained anti-Negro language that should not be read in any decent home.

It is said that you eat a peck of dirt before you die, and we would not pay much attention to The Labor Digest if it were not for some of its apparent backers. The sheet is all-out for Sen. Robert A. Taft for President. If Senator Taft and his local supporters do not reciprocate this affection, they have a public duty to repudiate the Digest.

Presumably the Digest is okay with Francis T. McCarty, who sought the GOP Governor nomination, because he has a full-page advertisement. Other advertisers include people who, in our opinion, should know better. There is at least one Jewish firm.

"THE FEPC BANDWAGON IS JUST ROLLIN' ALONG"

More than a score of the most widely acclaimed leaders of the nation's business and industry, headed by Winthrop Rockefeller, recently joined forces with the National Urban League as members of the Commerce and Industry Council of the organization.

Several of the group are directors of the Urban League, while the Commerce and Industry Council is dedicated to the belief that there should be equality of opportunity for citizens and that there should be full utilization of the vast manpower potential of Negro people.

The council functions in extending and strengthening the industrial relations and vocational guidance program of the Urban League. Members of the council participate actively in and support the League's program of promoting equal economic opportunity in all fields of endeavor for Negro people.

Mr. Rockefeller serves as chairman of the council and the co-chairman is Ralph L. Mason of the Standard Oil Company (New Jersey). Other members of the executive committee are Hoyt Ammidon (Hanover Bank, New York) and Benjamin F. Vander Pole (Union Carbide & Carbon Corp. and Western Electric Co.).

The leaders of business and industry who are members of the council include:

Bernard F. Gimble (Gimble Bros., Inc.), James G. Hanes, (Hanes Hosiery Mills Co.), James L. MacWhitney (Bristol-Myers Co.), Frederick Warburg (Kuhn, Loeb & Co.), Walter H. Wheeler, Jr. (Pitney-Bowes, Inc.) and Frank M. Folsom (Radio Corporation of America).

Other members include William H. Harrison (International Telephone & Telegraph Corp.), William S. Paley (Columbia Broadcasting Co.), Dwight R. G. Palmer (General Cable Corp.), Allan A. Ryan (Royal Typewriter Co., Inc.) and Charles Silver (American Woolen Co.).

Urban League projects in which the council members have been active include "pilot placement of qualified people in highly technical, skilled and administrative positions." In connection with this program, career conferences have been held in Negro colleges and universities with council members serving as consultants.

We submit that such a program is in keeping with the letter and spirit of a genuine FEPC law; yet people in favor of turning the clock back contend that such a law is not destined to be, and will not work.

Much could be said here about the letter and spirit of FEPC legislation. However, in regard to its operation in the state of New York, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, titular head of the Republican Party, said recently: "I do believe we are blazing a trail which all the states will ultimately follow—or perhaps even better, our people will all accept voluntarily."

"SHOULD BE THE BASES OF BOTH PARTIES' PLATFORMS."

MISCELLANEOUS MUSINGS

DE-SEGREGATING NEW JERSEY SCHOOLS (IV)

Among the METHODS USED to SOLVE PROBLEMS were individual and group conferences with pupils, parents and teachers, school programs, encouraging Negroes to participate in all activities and such slogans as "take each individual on his merit." The fact that most teachers wished to bring about unity and worked to that end was difficult. Teacher-principal consultation, persuasion employed by sympathetic teachers, mediation of the supervising principal, aid from the Teachers' Council, teacher turnover and general realization of necessity for peace, quiet order each was effective in the successful de-segregation of the schools.

Pupil problems may be classified as having to do mainly with emotional, behavior, instructional and social adjustment. Teacher-parent problems showed hostility, resentment and lack of cooperative effort. Adjustment was good despite all difficulties encountered. Most teachers, pupils and parents did all they could for the success of the innovation, regarding themselves as pioneering in a great cause. All matters difficult of settlement gradually drew to a close during the first year of integration.

Although New Jersey did away with Jim Crow schools more easily, quickly and completely than any one thought capable of being done, there still are UNSOLVED PROBLEMS.

LEMS which cause concern to the thoughtful. A few of them are mentioned briefly.

It still is necessary to face adult prejudice within the school, some teachers showing traditional prejudice and narrowness. It is feared that such an attitude may menace integration. Contending with prejudicial influences of some homes is important but difficult. New laws conflicting with adult prejudices cause vexatious situations for children.

Boys Are Confused

A colored boy and a southern white boy sitting side by side each is confused. Left to themselves children likely would settle the matter satisfactorily. Often, however, they get hindrance rather than help from home.

There is apprehension that integration of the schools may cause fewer colored teachers in the school system. The present number of Negro teachers is accepted but hiring more than the former ratio of Negro-white teachers is felt to be a problem. When white persons replaced a Negro dentist and a janitor, attention was turned to the question of filling jobs of retiring Negro teachers. The best solution presently is thought to be the maintenance of the former ratio of white to Negro teachers.

It is important to all concerned that it be determined whether or not the number of colored school graduates has increased or decreased or is likely to be greater or smaller as a result of integrating the schools.

Will integration of the schools improve or make worse the community attitude toward the Negro? Will it result in greater tolerance and a desire to convert democratic ideals and principles into actual practice? May general fair play, respect for others than one's own group, friendliness and liberal-minded citizens be expected as a result of the change? Are the best growth and proper social behavior to be realized from separate or mixed schools?

Prepare For Life

Many think the answer to the last question above is to be found in mixed schools. In such schools they argue white and colored prepare for life in a community where they live and work together. Hence they should understand each other, thus being able to cooperate for the common good. Those that hold this view maintain that integrated schools are the best if indeed not the only way to learn such useful lessons. It is further asserted that in mixed schools real democracy rather than hatred and prejudice due to race, religion and color is likely to be found.

It is declared that schools set up in a truly democratic fashion with integration of both pupils and teachers operate to lessen anti-racial, provincial attitudes in both races. Adult reeducation is necessary to prevent a continuation of the biased viewpoint and a lasting feeling of inferiority on the part of colored children. Such education also is needed to free white boys and girls from an unwarranted assumption of superiority, along with indifference to and contempt for Negroes.

ALONG THE COLONIAL FRONT

By A. J. SIGGINS (For ANP)

GERMANY WINS THE WAR

LONDON (ANP)—America's anxiety to have buffers between the U. S. A. and the dreaded Communists has driven her leaders into strange acts, but none more strange or dangerous than the signing of the Bonn Pact.

Germany will now back the Spaaks plan and become the most powerful member of the European Union. She will demand and get more trade with the Eastern nations, a share in the colonies, and bit by bit will regain all that the Kaiser lost in 1918.

Many Germans have said that it would take three wars to completely eliminate Britain and France as world powers and for Germany to replace them. Germany certainly dominates the European pact now. Without West Germany NATO would be useless.

France will gradually be disintegrated into two extreme sections as the menace of a re-armed Germany thirsting for revenge impinges on French minds, and Communists will gain over "rightists."

The Colossi to batter each other to death over the poles and over the Behring Straits.

In Arabia and North Africa America has lost the goodwill of most of the people. Those who still wish for American support are the rulers of Arabia who sold their country's oil to U. S. A. and Britain and who now fear the anger of their people; the very rich people who have had dealings with U. S. A. and Britain and fear to lose their trade, and a section in Egypt which depends upon foreign aid to protect vast industrial holdings in that country.

In Africa, America's support of the colonial empire powers has estranged African political and commercial leaders. They would welcome an opening into the vast markets of Asia and USSR which have been closed to them by the actions of the colonial powers.

Thus Germany now holds the balance of power in Europe and Japan holds the balance of power in the Pacific. The Axis seems to have won the war.

Lost Arab Goodwill

Garland Evans Hopkins, A. T. Steele and many other American commercial leaders, they would welcome an opening into the vast markets of Asia and USSR which have been closed to them by the actions of the colonial powers.

The fact is that U. S. A. stands for all that the Arab peoples desire: American Jews forced Arabs to yield Palestine, resulting in an immense number of Arab refugees still in camps.

The U. S. A. has monopolized oil, and with Britain, tried to give Arab rulers too much power over the masses whose oil they sold. When an Arab ruler is threatened by a smaller chief or individual, he threatens to bring U. S. A. war planes, troops or warships.

In Egypt, U. S. A. has backed Britain and this has damned both in the eyes of Egyptians. In North Africa, from Egypt to Morocco, America has backed Britain and France against the Arabs and all who demanded independence.

All Africans are revolting against the strangleholds Britain and France, backed by U. S. A., have put upon African development. Under these throttling grips, Arabs and Africans see nothing but decades of degradation and poverty while their countries are fabulously rich in natural resources.

The colonial empire powers cannot absorb the output of Africa, so they act as brokers, skimming most of the cream as the trade passes through their hands. Moslems sympathize with Africans and seek help from other powers as strong as those who are holding them down.

If U. S. A. wishes to regain Moslem goodwill let the government forthwith declare:

VOICE FROM THE GALLERY

By ANDREW W. RAMSEY

THE GENERAL BECOMES A POLITICIAN

Almost 400 years ago, one William Shakespeare thought up a title for one of his plays—an intriguing title which would have been appropriate to describe the millions of words which the boys of the daily press spent upon the nebulous address of the country's leading mug-wump.

The boys of the press and radio kept the public in a high state of tension while anticipating the return from the wars of the great general who was returning to capture the Republican nomination and the Presidency of the United States, in much the same way as a little boy might keep watch over a caterpillar expecting to see it turn into a gorgeous butterfly.

Many is the time that the boy watching the metamorphosis of the caterpillar has been sadly disappointed to find that when the caterpillar moulted instead of a butterfly emerging, a common moth came from the larva which he had tended so faithfully.

Probably the boys of the opinion industry would be loath to admit that in the moulting process Gen. Dwight Eisenhower became not the gaudy butterfly but the sorry-looking moth. To be sure, the segment of the populace which read the General's homecoming speech no doubt felt let down, but the press boys had created a straw man in whom they had some-how come to believe as inveterate liars eventually come to believe their own fabrications.

And there is where Mr. Shakespeare's title "Much Ado About Nothing" comes in. The picture. Out of the extended words of the ex-soldier which added up to practically nothing, the newspapers guys made much.

Ike's Against Sin

The General expressed himself as being for all the common virtues and against sin in general as well as in public life, and so well did he avoid the fundamental controversies of our time that no one could disagree with him nor find anything in his speech to commend him for the high office which he seeks—or is being sought for. Nobody, that is, except the creators of the Eisenhower myth and their dupes.

Most of the press treated the remarks, which they dignified with the name of address, in glowing terms. Some of the writers tried hard but truth kept getting into their eyes and they subtly admitted that Ike in mufti didn't seem to have the glamour of Ike in a general's uniform. But they had their bosses to think of and their bosses like Ike so they reaffirmed their belief in the myth by saying, as did one of our local dailies, that Ike is not a great orator and that perhaps he didn't say much, but that we don't particularly need orators and Ike is good for old Americanism.

The day after the Eisenhower manifesto, several hundred of the press boys and girls who had formed a considerable portion of the "epoch-making" crowd in the little hick-town in Kansas which had been chosen as the Bethlehem for this new political Messiah, stayed around to give the General and ersatz educator a sort of hot-foot treatment.

In the press conference in the new Bethlehem, the press fired questions at the Presidential hopeful (questions which he had been coached on before leaving the job in which he had some competence). The answers pleased the handlers of the General. With these answers they could give some substance to the gossamer "address" of the evening before.

Two FEPC Answers

The General was as successful in giving answers with double-signification as an old-line politician, thus proving that he catches on very fast. He did a very "clever" job on the question of an FEPC. In fact he gave two answers which do not jibe with each other, probably because when he was in school he learned that cancellation is a good method to get rid of something. His answers, "Leave it up to the states" and "Some things cannot be legislated," are familiar bromides, and not only cancel out each other but also cancel his statement that he believes in it (FEPC), while at the same time rivaling Senator Taft's proposal of a voluntary FEPC.

The General realizes and his Southern and Northern reactionary supporters realize that when he proposes to "leave it up to the states," he is advocating nothing new, as it has always been left up to the states and with two or three exceptions nothing has happened. He only hoped that Negroes were dumb enough to think that he is really for an FEPC. His opposition to legislation should also extend to the states, for if the Federal government cannot accomplish the feat by legislation, neither can the states.

As a matter of fact the General and the Senator have both taken cute methods of expressing their opposition to FEPC, and they both have relied upon the stereotype of the ignorant Negro.

Whether the General spoke his own sentiments or merely followed the dictates of his handlers matters little, but for those who came for bread and went away with stones it was another case of Jacob's voice and the hand of Esau.

BETWEEN THE LINES

By DEAN GORDON B. HANCOCK For ANP

THE NEGRO VOTER AND POLITICAL OPPORTUNISM

The emphasis in philosophy has shifted considerably within the last 50 years. Whereas the earlier schools of philosophy were absolute in their approaches, the later schools are relativist.

Whereas the earlier philosophers declared that things are either one thing or another, the more modern philosophers are a little hesitant to express the absolutism which says a thing is right or wrong. As a matter of fact a thing may have a mixture of both right and wrong.

Once upon a time it was thought that things were separated by lines, but we know today they are rather separated by zones. Youth is the zone between childhood and maturity; dawn separates the night from the day even as dusk separates the day from the night. Our seasons are the main areas of summer and winter which are separated by spring and autumn. As Ella Wheeler Wilcox once expressed it:

"I know as my years grow older and mine eyes have clearer light; that in each rank wrong somewhere there lurks the seed of right."

A Voting Crisis

The foregoing reflection was suggested by the current voting responsibilities which are imposed upon Negroes throughout the country. It is seriously to be doubted if a more critical suffrage situation ever before confronted the Negroes whose fortunes are poised in the political balances of the current elections.

With a coalition between deceitful northern opportunists and the dyed-in-the-wool Dixiecrats, the Negro's political future lies uphill and in the dark. It is therefore incumbent upon the Negroes to choose carefully whom they will support, in the coming critical elections throughout the country.

The Republican slate to date is of dubious distinction. The choice between Gen. Dwight Eisenhower and Sen. Robert Taft is a choice between the devil and the witch, politically speaking. Both are at heart Dixiecrats, and being special favorites of the Dixiecrats, both are dangerous political bets for the dusky sons of Ham.

Look For Cue

Like a guest at dinner, who gets his cue from the hostess, the Negro must look in some safe direction for a political cue. It is seriously to be doubted whether the average Negro voter has pondered seriously the confused political issues of the hour. The southern white man of anti-Negro persuasion is an astute student of politics in that he can sense a long way off issues with interracial implications.

Any political issue that promises the Negro a relief from their current discriminations and segregations is quick to get the attention of certain elements of lowly whites who enjoy prejudice as a luxury without which life would hardly be worth living. The Negro is not so adept in his political impulses.

Our period of training has been too short for us to have become skilled in things political. We are still political toddlers as compared with the Jews. It would be a fine thing if Negroes would watch the Jews in their political expressions. The Jews know men and measures and even today could spot the man or candidate who might offer some further hope of advancing the integration contrived by the immortal Franklin Delano Roosevelt, who according to Gunnar Myrdal, made the first attempt on the part of the government to integrate the Negroes.

Followed a Giant

Unfortunately President Truman had the heart but he lacked the head, to advance Roosevelt's progressive policies. What is even as important as Truman's misfortune in following such a towering giant beside whom he always suffered in comparison, Truman is a much more powerful character than rated, simply because he has had to stand in the stead of one of this country's truly great men, in fact one of the great men of history, despite what Westbrook Pegler says.

Pegler's dyspeptic attacks on the Roosevelt name is like a puppy barking at the moon. He is like a pygmy contesting with a giant colossus.

The Jews can be counted on to pick the winner in the coming election. This writer's eyes are turning seriously to the Jewish minority to point out the man who above others will lend some assurance that Negroes as well as other minority groups will not be left out of the nation's great scheme of things.

Political opportunism is political relativism. Trying to be absolute Democrat or absolute Republican is sheerest folly.

TO AN ABSENT SOLDIER

By EDNA SHANS BAILEY

Across the meadow's broad expanse
The long black shadows lie;
The sun is in a pool of gold
So bright the evening sky.

A pale star shines above the lake,
It glimmers in the blue;
There like a half remembered dream
It brings a thought of you.

So like the star that shines above
Is faithful to the night
I'll faithful be, dear one to you—
Love's fire's burning bright.

I'll send a prayer beyond the star,
A thought across the sea,
For as the star belongs to night,
Your heart belongs to me.

POLICE SEIZE 38 IN RAID ON TRIBESMEN OF SERETSE KHAMA

SEROWE, Bechuanaland (ANP)—Thirty-eight of Seretse Khama's Bamangwato tribesmen were arrested last week in a surprise raid by truck loads of African and white police armed with teargas bombs, rifles, bayonets, batons and shields.

Among those arrested was Keoboka Kgama, who led the recent Bamangwato delegation to London in protest to the British government against the banning of Seretse Khama from tribal leadership. Those arrested are understood to be leaders of the African community Serowe, scene of mob violence a week ago in which three African police were killed and many persons injured.

'Little David' Pope Tops A. A. Goliaths

Adds Batting Lead To Fielding Laurels

By CHARLES S. PRESTON

"LITTLE DAVID" POPE, the Indianapolis Indians' center fielder whose slingshot throwing arm is feared throughout the league, last week took over the American Association batting lead for good measure.

Fans who have heard of Pope's exploits via radio on meeting him invariably express surprise at his slight stature. "Why, I thought you must be a BIG man," is the customary comment.

The good-natured "regular fellow" stands only 5'10" and weighs a mere 165—but he hasn't worked in the Pennsylvania coal mines for nothing. Several Goliaths have tested "Little David's" arm to their regret, until most of them are now content with the minimum number of bases with Pope in the outfield.

Davy's arm and his Willie Mays-type fielding were bright lights in the Indians' dismal picture during the season's opening month. But for the past three weeks it is hardly an exaggeration to say that his fielding AND BATTING were all that kept the Tribe alive.

With the improved showing in the latest home stand—climaxed by Sunday's splendid double victory over league-leading Milwaukee—Naptown fans are hoping that a turn for the better has arrived.

18 Straight Games

If so, all the more thanks to Pope, who hit safely in 18 consecutive games to rouse his teammates from their plate slumbers. The steady barrage of bingles lifted Davy on June 6 to .363—from which dizzy perch the first-year man looked down on all other Association clouters. High points of the stick crusade were his inside-the-park home run on June 1, as the Indians took their first double victory of the year, with St. Paul the victim; and his rally-launching homer last Sunday as the Tribe did it again to the Brewers.

Over the week-end, Davy's B. A. slipped to .348, but judging from fans' continued applause, he'll win the "favorite player" television set hands down.

If he's around to get it, that is. Rumor has the Cincinnati Reds in pursuit of the ace flycatcher's services. We'd be the last to want to hold Davy down, but from a purely selfish standpoint we hope nothing like that happens till next year.

REDBIRDS 6, INDIANS 4: Pope doubled. He was "robbed" of a hit in the 5th when Umpire John Mullen ruled that Mo Mozzali caught his drive to right. Indian fans thought Mozzali trapped the ball.

Toledo

MUDHENS 11, INDIANS 5: Pope hit 3-for-3—a double and two singles.

INDIANS 5, MUDHENS 2: Pope got a single, giving him 4-for-6 for the double-header (including above game).

INDIANS 11, MUDHENS 5: Pope singled, driving in a run.

INDIANS 6, SAINTS 5: Pope hit 3-for-4. His 9th inning double down the left field line scored Snuffy Stirnweiss from second and broke up the ball game. Troupe, just off the train from Cleveland, caught for the Tribe. With bases full and two out in the 4th, he singled past first, driving in Pope and Higdon. Quincy was the victim of two doubtful scorer's decisions. In the 5th, he was charged with a passed ball on a pitch that some newsmen thought hit the dirt in front of the plate. In the 8th, his hot drive off Dan Ozark's glove was ruled an error, although Tribesmen are usually given a break on similar plays at Victory Field.

The Stints' Ed Amoroso homered 50 feet above the wall in right field—longest circuit clout we've seen this year. St. Paul's Bob Wilson hit 2-for-5.

INDIANS 8, SAINTS 3: Pope rounded out his big day by hitting 2-for-4, giving him 5 hits for the afternoon (with above game). Even his last out was a long fly to left, almost to the fence, which drove in a run. Wilson of St. Paul doubled in two runs in the 3rd.

SAINTS 6, INDIANS 3: Pope hit a double and triple. St. Paul's Wilson batted in 3 runs as he rapped a double and two singles.

Smith, playing third base, hit a double and a single, but also erred.

Minneapolis

INDIANS 7, MILLERS 5: Pope came up in the 4th with the bases full and two out. His mere appearance caused Miller Pitcher Al Corwin to be lifted for Andy Tomasko. However, Davy greeted the new hurler with a single to center, scoring Papish and Wilson.

7TH GRADE TRACK CHAMPS: Paced by Marian Westfield, girl star who captured three blue ribbons, the tracksters of School 4 won the city championship at a meet recently at Delavan Smith field. The victors scored 57 points to 53½ for School 22, while Schools 33, 8, 14, 15 and 10 followed in order. Miss Westfield took the 60-yard dash, the softball far throw and the standing broad jump. Expenses were paid by the PTA.

Standing, second row: Mrs. Zeola Bledsoe, girls' physical education teacher; Dorothea Moore, Floyd Harding, Alice Guyness, Marian Westfield, Ellis Walker, John Black, Frank Bush, Thomas Taylor, James Boyd and Milton Baltimore, boys' physical education teacher.

Pope had 3-for-4 for game. Smith added to his repertoire by playing right field after Bud Hutson was injured. Troups, switch-hitting, got 2-for-3 and drove in a run. Miller's Ray Dandridge hit 2-for-5.

MILLERS 10, INDIANS 9: Dandridge had a perfect night, collecting a triple and three singles in 4 at bats. Smith went big in right, amassing four puts and two assists. At the plate he knocked a single, double and triple. Troupe walked twice and scored 2 runs. Pope's hitting string almost ran out after 15 straight games, but he singled his last time up.

INDIANS 10, MILLERS 9: Pope singled in a run. Smith did it. Dandridge hit 3-for-5 and gave Indian Hurler Charley Sipple fits with his long lead off second in the 9th. Troupe hurt his throwing hand and was replaced by Montalvo in the 2nd.

Kansas City

BLUES 5, INDIANS 4: Pope, in the 1st inning, hit an inside-the-park homer—said to be the first at Victory Field since 1948. It was a tremendous high clout to the left center field wall, and Dave easily beat the relay. He also hit a double and single. Smith doubled and fielded flawlessly in right. Vic Power, said to be slated for New York Yankees, started a 4-run rally with the Blues' first hit of the game in the 2nd.

BLUES 13, INDIANS 6: Pope's hitting streak ended after 18 straight games as he failed to get a bingle. In the 6th inning, on Roy Partee's single, Davy threw fast and straight to nip Bill Renright field, made two fielding gems, both at the expense of Vic Power. In the 3rd, Smith's great throw on Vic's single caught Andy Carey at the plate. In the 5th, Al went very fast to his left and speared Power's hard drive that looked like extra bases. Power climaxed the Kansas City slugfest by poling a homer above the scoreboard with 2 on in the 8th.

Milwaukee

INDIANS 10, BREWERS 9: In the Tribe's best home game of the season, Pope ended his one-game "slump" by sailing a homer over the right field fence just inside the foul pole, scoring Malinberg ahead of him. The Indians trailed 8-3 at the time. A big rhabarb followed Davy's peg to the plate on Luis Marquez' single in the 6th. The home crowd thought Joe Montalvo put it on Don Liddie for the out, but the ump said "Safe." Smith went hitless and bobbled Hank Ertman's single in the 3rd, opening the door for 2 needless runs. However, the crowd gave Al a big hand for effort when he left the contest in the 8th. Marquez made the fielding play of the game when he went to the left field wall for Montalvo's hard-hit ball in the 7th. Bill Bruton, "fastest man in baseball," beat out a bunt and an infield hit.

INDIANS 2, BREWERS 1: Six Negroes in game—Pope, Smith and Troupe for Naptown, Marquez, Bruton and Bus Clarkson for Suds. Pope went fast to his left and leaped for the pill to make a miracle catch on Basso's hard drive in the 5th, robbing the Milwaukee gardener of a sure hit. The crowd gave Davy an ovation then, and another one for good measure at the end of the inning. Smith was back on third, drove in a run with a Texas League double. Clarkson, his first time up, walked and stole second on the first pitch. Troupe didn't even throw.

At Louisville

INDIANS 3, COLUMBUS 8: Troupe hit his first homer for the Indians, a 265-foot clout with one on in the 2nd inning. Pope hit 1-for-3, scored twice.

Amgiants, Philly Stars In 3 Tilts

A big week-end of sepiab baseball is in store for Naptown as a 3-game Negro American League series will be played at Victory Field between the Philadelphia Stars and the Chicago American Giants.

The clubs, which were rained out here May 9, will tangle at 8:30 Saturday evening, June 14, and again in a double-header beginning at 1:30 Sunday afternoon.

The Stars will be led here as usual by their famed manager, Oscar Charleston. Sometimes dubbed "the greatest all-round Negro ball player who ever lived," Charleston got his start in our mean city under C. I. Taylor with the Indianapolis ABC's.

In the trio of tilts here Charleston will have as a hurling staff Willie Gaines, veteran right-hander though only 24 years old; Joe Chestnut, Ed Martin, Will Dumps, Menny Cartledge and John Chaney, southpaw.

Wielding the heavy ash for the Philadelphia team are Right Fielder Jimmy Jones and Catcher Fate Simms.

Hardy's Huriers

Paul Hardy, successor to Winfield S. Welch as manager of the American Giants, will depend on Vincent Husband, Danny White, for Lloyd Golden for mound duty in Saturday night's game.

For Sunday's twin bill Hardy will hold in readiness the veteran Johnny Williams, William Beverly, Art Shannon and Joseph Mitchell.

Sluggers of the Chicago club are Donald Johnson, second sacker; Felix McLaurin, left fielder, and Lawrence Raines, shortstop. Jack Marshall, former Chicago and Kansas City infielder, will appear as coach.

The American Giants dropped an NAL double bill to the Birmingham Black Barons at Victory Field on Memorial Day, 5-2 and 9-8. Wes Dennis hit a home run for the victors in each game.

Flanner Meet on Saturday, June 21

Entrance of a 10-man team from the Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, O., has stepped up the interest in the 15th annual Flanner House Track Meet, to be held at Attucks' track on Saturday, June 21.

The blue-ribbon field will include outstanding tracksters from Indiana, Purdue and Michigan universities, several Army posts and various high schools, it was indicated this week.

Among the thinly-clad stars expected to take part are Russ Smith of Anderson, who is preparing to try out for the decathlon on the U.S. Olympic team; Dave Martin, all-American hurdler from Howe high school and Indiana University; Jim Lambert, crack distance ace from Muncie Central and I.U.; Frank Campbell, former Lawrence Central speedster who paced Butler to a successful track season this spring; John Howe of Columbus high school, state meet winner of the quarter-mile; Jim Ely, Evansville Bosse's half-mile star, and Bob Bruce, the talented Shortridge runner.

Anderson, Muncie Entered Teams of the Anderson Urban League and Muncie Jaycees are already entered, while several athletes from Kokomo are expected to compete unattached.

Featured in the girls' meet, which will take place in the morning, will be Miss Ollie Stewart, the sensational School 26 competitor who won the only Junior Olympic award in the state last year.

There will be more hoop-de-do in connection with the meet than formerly, with a parade on Indiana avenue planned for noon. Some of the Flanner House girls are brushing up their baton-twirling in preparation for the parade. Others will enter the queen contest.

The gala day will open with the girls' events from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. The misses will participate in two divisions: seniors (ages 15-17) and juniors (12-14). Events for both feminine contingents will be the 50-yard dash, standing broad jump, softball far throw, basketball throw and 330-yard relay. Miss Norma Woods, chairman of this part of the show, will handle the announcing. Miss

WAKE UP, INDIANAPOLIS. . . Here comes that MAN again. . . Only this time he's bringing something new and different to citizens of Naptown. WHAT . . . ? The Waitress Popularity Contest. . . WHEN. . . ? Starting Thursday, June 19, and running eight weeks. . . WHERE . . . ? Some cozy, cool place with a swimming pool and a pavilion for dancing. The contestants will include waitresses in all taverns and restaurants throughout the city, and will culminate with the crowning of the WINNAH as "Miss Bronze Indianapolis," who will receive a handsome prize. 2nd and 3rd prize winners will also receive handsome prizes. All contestants will receive a prize in a city-wide contest where everybody WINS. What the prizes will be? Watch this newspaper for S-P-L-A-S-H ANNOUNCEMENT.

This is a contest where you have nothing to buy, no crossword puzzles to work and no $64 questions to answer. All you have to do is fill out a blank which will appear in the issue of June 19 and bring or mail to The Indianapolis Recorder's Contest Editor, along with your photograph. Better still, if you are presently employed as a waitress in a tavern or restaurant, you can bring your picture in TODAY and NOT wait until the official announcement appears in this newspaper. This contest is being sponsored by the Indianapolis Recorder public relations department for the benefit of its Christmas Cheer Fund, which helps hundreds of families during the year and especially at Christmas time.

The object of the CONTEST is to select the three most popular waitresses in the city and at the same time introduce to the general public the hard-working young ladies who courteously serve you throughout the year. It will also introduce the many business establishments that are located around the town, some of which, are practically unheard of over the years. It makes no difference whether you operate a small or large establishment, your waitresses are eligible to enter this FREE contest.

REMEMBER, this is a contest where everybody wins. . . And it is Free to enter. . . There'll be prizes galore for all contestants. . . Don't delay. . . Bring that photograph in TODAY. . . And when the first BALLOT appears in this newspaper on Thursday, June 19, start working hard among your friends and see that they CLIP the Coupon and sign your NAME for the TITLE of "Miss Bronze Indianapolis" in a contest that is sure to ROCK this man's town. . . We know you have a FAVORITE Waitress somewhere in the city. . . So why not SURPRISE her by entering her name in the Recorder Waitress Popularity Contest, TODAY. Bring or send her name along with the name of the place where she works to the Contest Editor, The Indianapolis Recorder, 518 Indiana Ave., Indianapolis 7, Indiana.

There'll be valuable PRIZES donated by local business firms to all Contestants who enter and continue thru to the end of the contest. This is not a BEAUTY Contest. . . This is a Popularity Contest, and all waitresses are eligible to ENTER. Let's start the BALL rollin' TODAY.

A FLOCK of Naptowners invaded Cincinnati last Sunday for the Reds-Dodgers baseball game and left lots of mazzuma (folding money) in the Ohio city. . . Among those making the trip were: Mrs. Emmett Rudolph, Mr. and Mrs. Joe House, Mrs. Henrietta Smith, John Gaddie and party, Robert (Gumbo) Durham, Leo Johnson, Charlie Graham, Norman (Spoonie) Greer, Clarence Gaddie, Doc Patton and many others. . . Mr. and Mrs. Johnny (sporty) Johnson feted Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Bell (Dolly) on Mrs. Bell's birthday last Sunday in Cincinnati and Newport, Ky. . . Mrs. Gladys Shotwell, 2802 Paris Ave., presented her son, Alonzo, a Gruen watch as a graduation present. Her son is a graduate of school 87.

DROPPED IN ON Jackie P. at his elegant Palm Hotel last Tuesday nite, and was just in time to join in his birthday celebration. . . The fella is a grand host at all times and par excellent at repartee. . . The hotel now boasts of a honeymoon suite that surpasses anything we have ever seen. We heartily recommend the Palm Hotel as a cozy place to stay for the traveling public. . . Be sure and stop in at Tolliver's Tailor Shop for that fine cleaning, pressing and expert alterations. . . The establishment is located at 421 Indiana Ave.

JACK HARDING is still waiting for some of his friends to drop in at the Persian Club, 223 W. Vermont St. . . The Club is holding open house this Saturday, June 14. This is a swell place for nice people. . . Andrew (Big Perk) Perkins, grocery tycoon, is out on the main stem after several wks. of illness. . . A nice card came in from Jimmie Payne from Grand Rapids, Mich., but it was a sad note, since it informed us that the fella is presently bedded down in St. Mary's Hospital, and will be there for 3 or 4 wks.

WESLEY O. Jackson of the Cannon Ball Racing Association announced this week that they have purchased 10 stock cars, which are stored in their garage for make ready. He also assures us that the association will open soon with the greatest racing bill ever offered in Naptown.

THIS IS A scent from "Retreat, Hell," booked for showing at the Walker, Sunday thru Wednesday.

'My Son John' Superb Film Drama; Pack Solid Excitment, Suspense

In Leo McCarey's "My Son John," the Paramount picture which opened yesterday at the Avenue Theatre, Helen Hayes gives a superb demonstration of why she is known as America's first actress. In the key stellar role of this timely and important drama about a woman whose favorite son commits an act of treason, Miss Hayes delivers an eloquent and hugely moving performance that will probably stand as an all-time screen classic.

There is much to recommend erage American small-town family when they are thrust into the national headlines by the ideological confusions and moral weakness of one son. Miss Hayes as the mother, Robert Walker as the guilty youth, Jagger as the father and Heflin as a government agent recreate the explosive consequences as the true meaning of the son's treachery is slowly uncovered.

"Retreat, Hell!" Starts Sunday at the Walker Theater

"Retreat, Hell!" the film epic of the Marines in action in Korea last year, starring Frank Lovejoy, Richard Carlson, Rusty Tamblyn and Anita Louise, begins its engagement at the Walker Theatre on Sunday.

Produced by United States Pictures productions for Warner Bros., the war drama pictorially dramatizes the now classic remark made famous by General Oliver P. Smith at Pusan, "Retreat, hell! . . . we're just attackin' another direction!"

THE EX-MRS. PHIL MOORE LEADS BAND

NEW YORK (ANP)—Jeni Le-Gon, ex-mate of popular Phil Moore, is the latest to join the ranks of lady band leaders. Her outfit is comprised of two saxes, a trumpet, four rhythm and four vocalists.

Miss LaGon leads, dances, sings and writes for this interracial aggregation, which she also books.

Sunnyside Patient Wants Entertainment

No. 106 Trudeau Sunnyside Sanatorium Indianapolis, Indiana May 31, 1952

"Hello Bob:

"I hope that you are doing well by this time. As you note by the address I am out at Sunnyside. I have been a patient out here for two and a half years and now I am looking forward to my release in November. I see by the Recorder that you are still right on top in the local music business and apparently carrying considerable influence in that field.

"It is in this connection that I wish to bring a point to your attention. Every month the Sunnyside Guild, a group of rather wealthy and influential women give a party for the patients out no other Negro musicians have been out here.

"In addition to playing for these parties often tris come out and play on the wards. If you do think this idea is feasible, please write to me out here. Really, Bob, the patients all of them would appreciate such a gesture, also the entertainment that it would afford. As far as the Negro patients are concerned they would not only enjoy such a performance but also be proud of the fact that Negro musicians are doing their part in building the morale of the patients here. The members of the guild by hearing the musicians could hire them for some lucrative jobs in the future. Knowing you I am sure that you will give this matter

Amos Milburn and his Orchestra at Sunset Sun. Nite

CHARLIE HATCHETT, featured pianist with Bob Womack's All-Star Combo, now playing at the Udeli Tavern, was "Star of the Week" in the column, known as "What's Doing Among Bands," which appears on this page each week. Hatchett has been playing the piano for many years and is rated tops in the 88 (piano) field.

What's Doin' Among Bands

By BOB WOMACK

I was very glad to hear that the Ferguson Hotel management has finally got around to hiring a local band. This should happen more often. We have some of the best orchestras and combos in the country here. I am sure that the night club managers could save much money by obtaining local talent. The Musicians' "Grand Ball" proved that the Naptown cats can play and jump too. Congratulations, Mr. George Ferguson. Some of the recent winners of the Musicians' Poll are now sporting a "big head." As a favor to the profession and myself please come down to earth you are only hurting yourselves. Duke Hampton and his band are booked to play the Cotton Club in Cincinnati. What happened to the Coney Island deal in New York, Duke? I was advised that Dad Storms and his new orchestra will soon return to the Set as house-band. The 55th annual convention of the Musicians Union (AFM) is being held in Santa Barbara, Calif., representing 701 locals and 242,167 professional musicians of the United States and Canada. The meeting opened on June 9, and will continue through June 12, with addresses by the president, James C. Petrillo, Gov. Earl Warren and others. . . . The sessions have been held annually since 1896 with the exception of two war-time years. One of the issues to be taken up at this meeting, will be the discussion of granting a local charter for the musicians here. One of our popular band leaders requested this be done, by sending a telegram direct to Mr. Petrillo. . . . For newcomers to achieve success in the entertainment world, the method of the THREE "P's" has been mentioned. PRACTICE, PATIENCE, PEOPLE. . . . The song may be ended for thousands of graduates across the country, but the melody should linger on for those who plan to continue their studies towards a music career. . . . George's Bar is AIR CONDITIONED, everything cool except the entertainment and that's hot, especially the double attractions, the beautiful Eve Renee and Pro McClam song stylists, Count Fisher and his great combo. . . . Popular Emory Dillion, trumpet, recently spent his vacation in New Orleans, La., and was amazed to learn that local talent is a demand in the Southern States. . . . LaVon Kemp and his Orchestra will be playing some very nice gigs (engagements) soon. John Snell, trumpet, is still one of the featured artists with the band. One of the best little bands of the land is the Merrill Laswell unit, they are currently blowing on an off-gig in town. Laswell is considered one of the best musicians in the Middle-West today, having worked with Tiny Bradshaw and other great "names".

WAITRESS POPULARITY CONTEST

All managers of taverns, nite clubs, restaurants etc. are advised that in the very near future this paper will sponsor a city-wide contest to find out who is the most popular waitress in Naptown today. We are asking the public and you to send or bring pictures of your favorites to the Recorder office at once. . . . In about two weeks, coupons and rules will appear in one of the sections of the paper. . . . All contestants will win something. . . . Three grand prizes will be given away. . . . The lucky winner will be crowned "MISS BRONZE INDIANAPOLIS." I would like to receive pictures from all waitresses of the following spots: Cotton Club, Udeli, Tillie's Lounge, Oriental Cafe, Down-Beat, Sunset Cafe, Royal Roost, Imperial Cafe, 19th Street Tavern, Blvd. Tap Room, Jackie P's, Ferguson Hotel Lounge, Perkins' Grill, Chicken Shack, Nu Grape Tavern, Rainbow Room, Elks' Club, Henri's, George's Bar, Sportsman's Bar, Evelyn's and others around the city. At the close of this contest there will be entertainment for all, with four swing bands playing plus a named floor-show from out of town.

Featuring "Chicken Shack Boogie"

There'll be a hot time in a COOL atmosphere at the Sunset this Sunday nite, June 15, when Amos "Chicken Shack Boogie" Milburn comes to town with his celebrated dance band for a one nite engagement at the 'Palace of Dancin' Feet.

The sensational singing, piano playing maestro, spent three years in the Navy aboard an LSM in the Pacific waters. His stretch in the Navy carried him to Guadalcanal, Bougainville, and the initial Philippines Landings, which earned him thirteen battle stars. Amos spent his off-hours aboard ship by dodging aerial attacks and playing records. With no piano to play, all he could do was play through his fingers of the artist performing on the record. Of course he did sing along with the records and all the yearning and blues came out in that voice.

Here is a band that you'll enjoy hearing and dancing to its tunes. You can't go wrong when you visit the Sunset this Sunday nite.

AMOS MILBURN

I see, where Bill Stafford Jr., one of Naptown's all time "greats" is now back playing his alto or is it, tenor sax this time? Don't forget that every Thursday night is Celebrity Night at the cool Udeli Club, come out and dig the jive. I know that my readers have been waiting to find out this column's "STAR OF THE WEEK". I give you the one and only. . . Dudley (Dad) Storms, one of Naptown's famous band leaders, is one of the most popular musicians around the state. Dad, received his start back in the days when he was connected with the old W. P. A. Orchestra. Later was manager for Leo Hines and his great organization, a position held for over three or more years. It wasn't long after that, Dad went out on his own, has made good ever since, having played for more formal and ofay dances than any leader in the city. Has done a lot to keep good relations, among the cats and the public. At the present time, is manager of the Sunset Ballroom. Hats Off, to you Mr. Storms, keep the good work up, we need more humanitarians like you.

After the concert of Duke Ellington at the Murat on last week there was a party given for the band at the Federation of Associated Clubs. It was instigated by Art Jenkins and Bob Long with the support of Starline W. James, punch and a Dutch lunch was served. Among those present were Debbie Andrews, Flo Garvin, Jimmy Johnson and many others. There was a jam session which included such greats as: Roger Jones, trumpet; West Montgomery, bass; Sonny Johnson, drums; Ray Barlow, oass, and Duke Ellington who sat in with the cats and played some of his hits, namely: "A Train," "Solitude," "Caravan," and "Mood Indigo" which climaxed the session. There were also three disc jockeys present: Dick Buckley, WISH; Bob Morrison, who will take over Bill Powell's program on June 14, and the sensational Roy Wood, who came in late. (Sent in by Roger Jones).

Eartha Kitt Loaded With Talent: Called a Show Stopper — Eartha Kitt is a show stopper and is loaded with the only type of talent that never gets monotonous—good talent.

Not pretty, but handsome, Eartha probably made more fame on the European continent but when she appeared in St. Louis' "Y" circus this year, took over the stage in "New Faces of 1952," which appeared on Broadway recently, and did a terrific stunt at the class-spot, New York's Blue Angel, there is no doubt of how great this gal is.

WARFIELD TO DO 'PORGY AND BESS' IN TEXAS

NEW YORK (ANP)—Top singers headed by William Warfield left New York last week for Dallas where they will do a revival of "Porgy and Bess." The role of "Sporting Life" created by Avon Long in previous presentations of the show, will be taken by Lorenzo Fuller, who formerly played in "Kiss Me Kate" and since has been busy with radio commitments on WLBB in New York.

Hadda Brooks, Pert Song Stylist, To Tour Europe With Abe Saperstein

CHICAGO, Illinois—Abe Saperstein, celebrated sports, figure, and other stars called "Out of the Blue."

Hadda has just completed a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer film, "Tribute to a Bad Man," starring Lana Turner and Kirk Douglas and directed by Vincent Minelli, in the theatrical field as a producer and director of talent.

HADDA BROOKS

as well as the leading sports promoter of the era.

Accompanying him, signed to a seven-year contract by the celebrated impresario, is Hadda Brooks, pretty sepi song stylist known as the "Queen of the Boogie" off her many movie and recording hits and personal appearances in America's leading theaters and night clubs. Saperstein is taking her to Europe as the first step in his program to boom her into an international favorite. She becomes the first artist to come directly under his personal management.

Moviegoers throughout the world will recall the hit she made in the 1950 Humphrey Bogart film, "In a Lonely Place." Her rendition of the Ray Noble song, "I Hadn't Anyone But You," was one of the high spots of that movie. Two years before that she had made her cinema debut in an Eagle-

Lion picture with George Brent and other stars called "Out of the Blue."

Hadda has just completed a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer film, "Tribute to a Bad Man," starring Lana Turner and Kirk Douglas and directed by Vincent Minelli, in the theatrical field as a producer and director of talent.

The decision by Saperstein came as no surprise to his friends and associates, who knew that theatrical leanings came natural with the Chicagoan. In addition to the many great athletes in all lines of sports he has developed, he has brought to the front numerous talented entertainers. He has discovered outstanding talent in all parts of the world and brought them to this country as added attractions accompanying his Globetrotters and other units. Saperstein has won recognition as one of the top showmen of the day which her rendition of "Temptation" will win her more acclaim for a certainty.

Miss Brooks' recordings also have made her a great favorite throughout the globe. Possessing a fine musical background as a singer and pianist—she received a B. A. degree at the University of Southern California in her native city of Los Angeles, California—the sepi lovely became an instant hit with her Modern discs, "Polonaise Boogie," "Humoresque Boogie," "Hungarian Rhapsodie in Boogie" and others. She was the originator of doing the c-s-s-s in boogie woogie and the idea clicked big.

Gold Coast Man Lauds AME Zion Work in Africa

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Dr. A. W. E. Appiah, Cape Coast, Gold Coast, West Africa, Rev. K. O. Okyir, Kumasi, Gold Coast, West Africa, and Rev. Isaac S. Cole, Keta, Gold Coast, West Africa, said here recently that the AME Zion Church has every possibility of progress in the Gold Coast, West Africa, in particular, in Liberia and Nigeria in general.

The three were members of the African delegation to the recent general conference which was held in Brooklyn, New York. They based their predictions on the fact that the natives have been clamoring for a resident bishop and it is now a reality. Bishop D. C. Pope has been assigned to this area and will take up residence there.

"The election of Dr. Pope is a blessing to us," said Dr. Appiah. He was joined by the other two who agreed that Bishop Pope was a man with vision, determination and influence. They concluded by saying that Bishop Pope would be able to enhance the expansion program.

Dr. Appiah is the Principal of Aggrey Memorial Zion College, Cape Coast, Gold Coast, West Africa. Rev. Cole serves as the Bishop's Deputy and General Manager of schools in East Gold Coast Conference and lives at Keta.

In Memoriam

MRS. CLARA DANIELS
DANIELS—In loving memory of our wife, daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. Clara Daniels, who passed away June 3, 1947. I shall remember while the light lives yet.
And in the night-time I shall not forget,
Though (as thou wilt) thou leave me ere life leave,
I will not for thy love I will not grieve.
Albert Daniels, Husband
Minnie Lee McClure, Mother
Mary and John McClenon, Grandparents.

ESTELLA EDNA POWERS LOWERY
LOWERY—In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, Mrs. Estella Edna Lowery, who departed this life June 16, 1930.
You were both a wonderful wife and mother.
Our Heavenly Father knows
And unto Him each of our lives must fold.
Because he knew best, he took you to rest.
In His everlasting Kingdom called Home.
Sadly missed by
Betty J. Howard, Daughter
Dr. Gerald S. Lowery, Husband

REDD—In loving memory of my dear mother, Daisy L. Redd, who passed away June 15, 1943. Just a line of sweet remembrance. Just a memory fond and true. Just a token of love and devotion. That my heart still longs for you.
You are not forgotten Dear Mother.
Nor shall you ever be.
As long as life and memory last I shall love and remember thee.
Sadly missed by daughter
Georgia Reed Moss.

HAYDEN—In loving memory of my dear mother, Mrs. Cornelia Hayden, who passed away June 12, 1947.
Where the gold and the blue for each morning.
Are hidden till time to appear.
And glory is grown for each sun-set.
I'll find you, someday, Mother dear.
Beatrice Smith,
Maudie Wolf, Daughters
Richard Hayden, Son.

ALLISON—In memory of my dear husband, James D. Allison who passed away June 14, 1950.
In my heart your memory lingers.
Always tender, fond and true.
There is not a day.
I do not think of you.
Gustava A. Allison, Widow.

McCRAY—In loving memory of our father and grandfather Harry McCray who passed away June 12, 1951.
Time speeds on one year has passed.
Since death its gloom, its shadow cast.
Within our home where all seemed bright.
And took from us a shining light.
We miss that light and ever will, Father Dear, we miss you still.

Card of Thanks

McKAY—I wish at this time to thank again our relatives, friends and neighbors for their many kindnesses shown me during the sudden passing of my brother John E. McKay. I especially thank Mrs. Della Washington and Mr. Harold Blackley for their solos, the ministers Rev. Gill, Rev. Staples and Rev. Chalmers Robinson for the comforting remarks, the pallbearers, those who sent flowers, cards and telegrams, donation of cars. I especially thank Stuart Mortuary for their very wonderful service and all who helped in any way. May the Lord add a blessing to each one of you.
Ethel Anderson, Sister
Aunts and Uncle.

STEWART—I wish to express my heartfelt thanks and sincere appreciation for the many kindnesses shown me by friends, relatives and neighbors, during the passing of my dear wife, Mrs. Mary Stewart. I especially thank Rev. E. H. Adams and Rev. McCulley, King and King Funeral Home for their fine service. I am sorry so many cards, telegrams and messages of condolences had to be omitted but time did not permit further reading.
James Stewart.

Lucky Strike Poster Girl an Ex-teacher, USO Entertainer

NEW YORK CITY—Beauteous, Sara Lou Harris, first Negro poster girl for Lucky Strike cigarettes, has had an almost charmed career. The tall, statuesque, North Carolina-born former school teacher, is being featured in full color nationally by the makers of Lucky Strikes.

Sara Lou met and overcame many of the obstacles to be faced when one moves in search of a public career. While majoring in education at select Bennett College in Greensboro, N.C., the versatile and ambitious young coed helped to pay her own tuition by taking a job as organist in one of the churches.

After graduation, Sara Lou returned to the little town of Wilkesboro, N.C., to teach third grade at Lincoln Heights grammar school which she had attended as a child. Like many women avid for knowledge, the pert school teacher came to New York for further study in her field.

Oddly enough, her musical ability landed for Sara Lou a singing job in one of gay Gotham's night spots and this first engagement proved a springboard to more exclusive bookings in such famous supper clubs as "Le Ruban Bleu" and "La Vie en Rose."

A sincere interest in the morale of our fighting forces led the talented teacher to join the USO as an entertainer during World War II. Along with bevy of prominent stars of stage, screen and radio, she traveled to Italy, France, Belgium, Austria and Germany, performing for battle-weary G.I.'s in a streamlined version of the Broadway production "Shuffle Along."

Background of Radio Also
Recalling exciting high spots of her career, the comely poster girl is pardonably proud of her participation in the radio program featuring the Herman Chittison Trio and a 10-month television performance with Al Seigal's "Music Shop."

Despite the success she had chalked up in the entertainment field, the exciting but strenuous profession of modeling appealed to Sara Lou. Poise, grace and a winsome smile were but three of the attributes for which she was selected as the first Negro model to appear in the New York Buyers' Show. The fashion parade, which takes place four times each year, is attended by buyers from the most exclusive clothing stores in New York. As a result of her outstanding performances, the shapely model has been asked to be a permanent participant in this affair.

A Smart Dresser of Taste
Sara Lou's excellent taste in clothing is reflected in her well-chosen, conservative wardrobe. With a flair for the "smart touch," she is often seen with a rose at her throat or a wisp of veil over her eyes. Foremost, perhaps, among her beauty points is a "peaches and cream" complexion, the result of "plenty of sleep" and careful grooming.

These were among the qualifications taken into consideration by American Tobacco Company officials in selecting the young woman to grace the Lucky Strike posters. She was chosen from among more than 150 models along the Eastern Seaboard.

Even though Sara Lou Harris' life appears a glamorous affair, she devotes as much time as possible to homemaking and the care of her daughter, who is now two years old. In private life, the Lucky Strike poster beauty is the wife of "Buddy" Bowser, of the comedy team of Howell and Bowser.

Be Happy-Go Lucky!

In a cigarette, taste makes the difference—and Luckies taste better!

The difference between "just smoking" and really enjoying your smoke is the taste of a cigarette.

You can taste the difference in the smoother, mellower, more enjoyable taste of a Lucky ... and for two important reasons.

First, L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco... fine, mild tobacco that tastes better. There's no substitute for fine tobacco, and don't let anybody tell you different.

Second, Luckies are made to taste better. A month-after-month cigarette comparison, measuring those important factors of workmanship that affect the taste of cigarettes, proves Lucky Strike is the best-made of all five principal brands!

That's a fact—established in The Research Laboratory of The American Tobacco Company—and verified by leading independent laboratory consultants.

So reach for a Lucky. Enjoy the better taste of truly fine tobacco in a great cigarette—Lucky Strike! Be Happy—Go Lucky!
